Begin Preparations For Resumption Of Cement Plant Here

Lehigh Cement Plant Installing New Equipment

Plant Is Being Put In Readiness To Resume Operations Around March 1

INSTALLATION WORK IS STARTED MONDAY

Part Of Force Of Employees Recalled At Once For Work At Plant

Work was started on the installation of new equipment at the plant of the Lehigh Portland Cement company Monday, in preparation for the resumption of the plant in full at an early date, it was stated by Superintendent W. H. Kleckner yesterday afternoon.

While no definite date has been assigned for the resumption of the plant, it will probably be around March 1, Mr. Kleckner stated, as it will take fully that long to install the new machinery which has now arrived and is being put in place.

New Separating Unit

A complete new separating unit will be put in at the plant and as soon as it is in readiness for operation, the big plant east of the city will start operations.

A force of approximately 20 men has been called back to work at the task of putting this machinery in place, and they will be kept busy until the job is completed.

The announcement made by Mr. Kleckner will be welcome news to New Castle people, as it indicates another step in the return to prosperous conditions locally.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Some New Castle radio fans are having the time of their lives on nights when they successfully tune in the Chicago police radio broadcasting station. On a certain night recently 14 robberies were broadcast from the station to the police during a period of nine minutes.

H. R. McCulloch, county farm agent, is back from the farm show in Harrisburg, and is telling everybody all about the mammoth agricultural display.

In a short time Mr. Citizen will again begin the annual worry over the income tax.

Rev. Elijah B. Johnson, P. D. general field secretary of the Southwestern Presbyterian sanatorium at Albuquerque, N. M., believes in stiffer prison sentences for criminals, but is against capital punishment. The secretary, now a visitor in New Castle, is of the belief that life sentences should be such, not a chance for the criminal to return to freedom after serving a few years.

Weather permitting the horses of Troop F will be seen with their riders in Union township over the coming week-end. Already troop officers are planning for a summer hike on horseback.

When snow does not pile up along highways for the State Highway department the employees still have plenty to do in warm weather, such as we find today. Upkeep of bridges and roads form a major part of the department's work on a warm day.

Hardly seems reasonable to speak of signs of spring, but we can't help it nevertheless. In a local alderman's court room yesterday chairs were being thoroughly scrubbed and the room was being cleaned. Outside at the time it was certainly springlike.

New Castle's industrial outlook continues to improve. News is received today that new machinery is being installed at the Lehigh Portland Cement plant.

Daily Weather Report

U. S. weather bureau statistics for the 24-hour period ending at 9 o'clock this morning follows:
Maximum temperature, 49.
Minimum temperature, 26.
No precipitation.
River stage, 5.3 feet and rising.

Whipping Post Bill Introduced In House

Rep. Turner, Delaware County, Offers Bill Proposing Whipping Posts

Would Establish Post In Every County To Deal With Hardened Criminals

By ROBERT F. GORMAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Jan. 27.—The shadow of the whipping post loomed over the criminal in Pennsylvania today, with a bill sponsored by Rep. Turner, Delaware, before the lower chamber of the legislature calling for establishment of a whipping post in every county.

The bill calls for 5 to 60 lashes to be administered on the bare back—"well laid on"—in addition to the regular penalty fixed for certain offenses. Whipping would become a public affair under the provisions of the bill and the whipping post would be kept in or near the county jail or workhouse. The lashes would be administered by the sheriff or his deputy.

Policies Attacked

The whipping post bill was one of a score tossed into the house hopper in a session last night marked by two outbursts—one an attack on the policies of governor Gifford Pinchot, the other on the resolution, also sponsored by Rep. Turner of Delaware, which holds in substance that the Pennsylvania legislature is opposed to the action of the Nye campaign funds investigating committee in attempting to unseat U. S. Senator James J. Davis, of Pennsylvania.

One outburst came from Rep. Witkin, Philadelphia, as spokesman for the delegation from that city when (Continued On Page Two)

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Jan. 27.—Principal features of last night's session of the general assembly were:
Separate resolutions offered by Senators Salus, Philadelphia, and Earnest, Dauphin, for investigations of the Pennsylvania Public Service Commission.
Bill to amend the state constitution to permit old age pensions offered by Senator Harris, Allegheny.
A state dry referendum proposed by Senator Woodward, Philadelphia.
Rep. Moore, Washington, offered Bill setting up city manager form of government for cities with exception of Philadelphia.
Public whipping for robbery and other crimes proposed under bill offered by Rep. Turner, Delaware.
Governor Pinchot's attitude toward Philadelphia organization assailed by Rep. Witkin, Philadelphia.

Denies Wolves Escape Pack

(International News Service)
KANE, Pa., Jan. 27.—Denying reports that wolves from his famous farm here had formed a roving pack in the vicinity of DuBois and Punxsutawney, Dr. E. H. McCleery today claimed that not one of his animals had ever made a permanent escape.

Dr. McCleery maintains parks here and at Coatesville, Pa., where the animals are bred. Farmers in Jefferson and Clearfield counties recently were terrorized by four large animals which they claim are members of a pack of wolves.

More than 100 of the animals are maintained at the McCleery farms.

ASKS LORD IRWIN TO INTERCEDE

Seeks Release Of All Political Prisoners And Repressive Ordinances Cancelled

(International News Service)
BOMBAY, Jan. 27.—In his first official utterance since his release after nine months' imprisonment in the Yeravda jail, Mahatma M. K. Gandhi, leader of the Indian Nationalists, served notice on Great Britain today that his efforts in behalf of Indian independence cannot cease.

Greeted by thousands of his followers on his arrival here from Poona, the 61-year old ascetic announced that his campaign of civil disobedience against British rule would continue "until all political prisoners have been released and all repressive ordinances cancelled."

Urges Continuance

Gandhi declared that the Indian Nationalist movement was no longer controllable by a few "front rank leaders."

"It has become broad-based," he said, "and the large numbers of local leaders thrown into prison alone are able to deliver the goods."

He urged continuance of civil disobedience pending discussion of Prime Minister J. Ramsay MacDonald's statement by the All-India Congress, meeting shortly at Allahabad. He referred to the Premier's declaration at the close of the round table conference in London when he said "The future of India is now in the hands of the Indians."

"Our work cannot be suspended," Gandhi said. "Indians have a right to manufacture salt, to persuade adults to abstain from the drink and drug evils, to boycott foreign cloth and picket shops."

The Mahatma urged Lord Irwin, retiring British viceroy in India, to intercede on behalf of the Nationalists and obtain abrogation of Britain's "oppressive policy."

Sneak Thieves Enter Two Homes

Loot Worth Several Hundred Dollars Taken In Two Robberies Monday

Sneak thieves entered two local homes Monday afternoon and evening, securing loot worth several hundred dollars.

Mrs. Paul Kinsey of the Norris apartments, North Liberty street, reported to police that while she was absent from her home Monday afternoon about 3 o'clock, someone entered the place and stole a diamond ring, opal ring, wrist watch and several valuables worth approximately $250.

Mrs. Kinsey was only absent from the house about ten minutes, having gone to a nearby store. When she returned she found the place had been entered and the jewelry taken.

W. H. Wilkins reported that someone had broken into his home at 4 West Laurel avenue last evening stealing two deer heads and a cornet, the latter valued at $30.

The Wilkins family had been moving and only part of their goods were in the home at the time it was entered.

Police are investigating both robberies.

Elmer E. Beighle, Adams street, baggage man at the Pennsylvania railroad's West Side depot who has been recovering at his home from a serious attack of pneumonia, is continuing to improve, it is reported.

Philadelphia Senator Would Have Referendum On Prohibition

By WILLIAM B. BROWN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Jan. 27.—Having taken the first step in what apparently is a well planned move to "steal the thunder" from Governor Gifford Pinchot's legislative program, the senate today is expected to advance further along that course.

The senate judiciary general committee will meet before the session today to determine its course on two resolutions, both of which are aimed to keep in the legislative palm all responsibility for determining the truth of the charges which Pinchot repeatedly has hurled at the Public Service Commission. Both were introduced last night, sent to the judiciary general committee, a meeting of which was at once determined upon.

Joint Committee

One of the resolutions was sponsored by Senator Earnest, Dauphin, who is chairman of the committee. The resolution purports to establish a joint legislative committee "whose duties it shall be, thoroughly and impartially, to inquire into, investigate and study the charges made against the Public Service Commission."

The committee would be composed of the judiciary general committee of the Senate and House. The resolution also proposes creation of a smaller body or sub-committee of managers. It would be made up of the chairman of the senate judiciary general committee and four other members and the chairman of the house judiciary general committee and the same number of members.

Full power is conferred upon the committee to hold hearings each week and to call before it upon subpoenas any person whom it might wish to testify.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—A finish fight in the house over the senate's $25,000,000 Red Cross relief fund seemed assured today as the house appropriations sub-committee in charge of the interior department bill continued hearings on the proposal.

Rep. Cramton (R) of Michigan, in charge of the bill, voiced the opposition of some house leaders when he declared congressional "doles" would break down all other agencies of relief, and the entire responsibility would be shunted upon the federal government.

Annual Meeting Of Universal Sanitary Pottery Company Is Held

APPOINTMENTS ARE ANNOUNCED

Report Outlook For Present Year At Plant Is Excellent—Business Improves

Directors of the Universal Sanitary Manufacturing company held their annual meeting at the offices of the plant at New Castle Junction Monday, when officers were elected for the ensuing year and appointments were announced.

In spite of business conditions, the local plant enjoyed a fair year, President W. Kieth McAfee announced, and prospects for the coming year are unusually bright, business for the first quarter being better than it has been for some time past. The outlook, based on building conditions throughout the country as a whole, presages a most successful year.

Directors who were named at the meeting yesterday are as follows: G. D. Morris, manager of the New Castle Refractories company; L. R. MacQueen of Pittsburgh; John A. Johnson of Frankfort, O.; and C. M. Whitaker and W. Kieth McAfee of New Castle.

Officers named for the coming year are:
President—W. Kieth McAfee.
Vice presidents—K. K. McAfee and F. A. Glenn.
Secretary and treasurer—C. M. Whitaker.

President McAfee announced the following appointments following the election; to be sales manager, R. G. Carruthers, former assistant sales manager; factory manager, S. L. Barnes, former superintendent.

F. A. Glenn, who was formerly sales manager of the company is now a vice president.

Several Homes, Church And Town Hall, Damaged By Blast

(Special To The News)
LOWELLVILLE, O., Jan. 27.—One house was blown from its foundation, several others damaged and windows shattered when an explosion of undetermined origin occurred at 3:45 o'clock this morning. The house rocked from its foundation is next to the police station. The damage is estimated at $15,000.

According to reports the house which was blown from its foundation was vacated Saturday by a family named Immons. The house damaged and located across an alley from the wrecked house was occupied by John Peterson and family, several of whom were hurled from their beds but not injured.

Slight damage was caused to the Town hall and the Holy Rosary church.

Investigation of the explosion, the sixth to occur in the vicinity within the past year, was launched immediately. (Continued On Page Two)

Class Day Is Observed At Senior High School This Morning

MANY FEATURES DRAW INTEREST

Enthusiasm was manifest this morning in the auditorium of the senior high school when the mid-year graduating class presented their class day program. Robert Jameson, president of the class was in charge of the event.

From start to finish the program was good. An orchestra composed of selected students opened the program with two snappy melodies. Miss Nellie Brady and Miss Dorothy Patch featured next with a dance which appealed to the large audience.

Robert Hoose read the class will. The will created much laughter.

Next on the program was a song by Paul McCurdy, Harry Powell, and Harold Zeller.

The class prophecy was given by Miss Peggy Griffith.

Scouting Strides Rapidly To Front; See Further Gain

Past Year's Work Fully Reviewed By Members At Annual Meeting

GATHER LAST NIGHT IN C. OF C. ROOMS

Picturing the noteworthy progress of Boy Scout work locally and throughout the county during the past year, and forecasting a new concentration of effort for the approaching months, committee reports of the Lawrence county council's various activities were read before the annual meeting of the membership last night.

Well-attended and interesting from beginning to end, the meeting held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms, was one of the most enthusiastic sessions for years. Dr. W. Charles Wallace, president of Westminster college and the retiring president of the council, presided.

Delay Officers.

Many interesting reports were made by the various council committee chairmen who were present, although not all committee reports could be so reported on account of several chairmen being out of town. For the same reason the full list of officers for 1931 was delayed until some of these men return to the city.

Charles T. Metzger, chairman of publicity, announcing that these would be made later.

The members at large elected to membership for 1931 included all the former members, as well as some men named for 1931, the list being as follows (these men will hold office from January 1 to December 31 of this year):

W. G. Ayres, R. L. Boyd, L. M. Buchanan, A. W. Chilton, Herbert Christman, Walter Braham, DeLace Cole, J. G. Davis, Frank Fischer, Mayor William Gillespie, Dr. C. C. Green, E. B. Hawkins, C. W. Herman, H. L. McCurdy, J. A. McElroy, John Offutt, Rex L. Patch, Ira Ramsey, Earl Reebie, Fred L. Rentz, Louis B. Round, Dr. E. E. Sankey, Emmanuel Shenkan, Edward Shields, B. K. Thacker, F. P. Simpson, Volant, Frank Schultz, R. J. Tully, William Wheeler, Rev. C. J. Williamson, Frank S. Young and William Toner.

Deputies Approved.

Deputy commissioners named for appointment, and approved by the meeting included Ralph F. Davis, commissioner, and Deputies James Gray, Dr. R. C. Lutz, Dr. T. J. McFate, Charles E. Lyle, Anthony M. Colalucia, H. R. McCulloch, Ed O. Raney and J. A. Pearson, Eldon Danner, Frank L. Herbert and L. B. Meyers, the last four men representing the Ellwood district deputies.

Scout headquarters today is to communicate with the new members, checking up on 1931 membership registration of scouts, and generally preparing the final data for the annual report of the council, which must be forwarded to New York by the end of the week.

William Harvey Tubbs, A. M., Ph. D., was the master of the Heigbo academy, a boys' school. Master Tubbs was getting along splendidly with his charges, except one boy, with whom he was having difficulty. Master Tubbs warned that boy unless there was a radical change in his behavior he, Master Tubbs, would have to chastise him; but the threats had no effect on the boy.

One day Master Tubbs, being more annoyed than usual, did give the boy a sound thrashing. The boy promptly communicated the tidings to his parents, who became greatly incensed at Master Tubbs. They took action in behalf of the boy for assault and battery.

The Blair Strip Steel plant, which was partially destroyed by fire last October, is rebuilt, and again in operation. The Burton plant erected west of the city is getting into operation. Reports from other local industries indicate that the situation is growing steadily better.

Thanks to the street department men who followed up Pa Newc's suggestion by fixing a bad depression at the North and East street corner! It was remedied Monday.

No doubt it's being kept up for next Christmas—the star on the court house tower, we mean. Not a bad idea at that, for the illuminated ornament tended to set things off this Christmas.

One railroad's track repair force will likely find plenty to do for some time. Besides its tracks here are piled stacks of new ties, ready to be shipped away for the curing process. Whether they'll be used in the local district we don't know.

The News is in receipt of a letter from Clair Cameron, 428 Epworth street, in which he asks that if anyone will allow him use of a large vacant lot or piece of land near the city, this spring, he would like to use it for garden making, and raising foodstuffs for his family. He is a deaf mute, and due to labor conditions has been out of work. He is certain that someone will grant his request. It would be a good idea for many others to plan for just such a program this spring—securing a vacant lot or small piece of ground for garden making and raising foodstuffs.

One week from today and the groundhog will be out to see his shadow.

Numerous Bills In House Today

Flow Of Proposed Legislation Continues Unabated In Lower Chamber Of Assembly

BELIEVE RECORD WILL BE MADE

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 27.—Flow of proposed legislation continued unabated in the lower chamber of the legislature when it convened today and as the bills piled up, the indications were plentiful that a record of hoped-for laws would be set.

The second bill making compulsory use of non-shattering glass in motor buses reached the house today through Rep. Talbot, Delaware. Designed as a safety measure, the bill would amend the motor code to minimize danger of accidents to motor passengers.

Upon another measure introduced by Talbot, companies engaged in outdoor advertising would be required to procure a yearly license from the department of revenue. The bill sets the license fee at $100 and makes its provisions, if enacted, effective Jan. 1, 1932.

A bill providing for appointment of meter inspectors in counties of over 15,000 population and in second and third class cities was sponsored by Rep. Henderson, Fayette. Appointments under the bill would be made by mayors and county commissioners.

Other measures tossed into the house today included: Greenstein, Philadelphia.—Permitting the respondent in a divorce case to file a libel against the libellant in his answer.

McKay, Mercer.—Permitting married women to mortgage personal real estate without the joinder of their husbands and permitting them to become endorsers, guarantors or sureties for one another.

Lockhart, Washington.—Appropriating $20,000 to the Canonsburg General Hospital.

Shiefel, Millifin.—Providing for taking over of all state-aided highways by the state when they are constructed or improved by state funds.

Bedridden in Youngstown for several weeks, Maurice Meuser, 22, Bradford airport pilot, who returned to the local field this morning, decided to make up for lost time in the air.

Asked why Meuser was flying so soon after an illness, attaches at the field said he "was up for a little practice."

When telescopes of the greatest power are set up in the southern hemisphere, making possible such work as has been carried on in northern latitudes, we will begin to gather a vast amount of amazing information that is now but merely hinted at. proportion would be made to match funds raised by the public. The subcommittee members, however, appeared hostile to the whole senate plan.

"On the basis of 5,000,000 idle workers, it means that 20,000,000 must be added," said Cranton. "On even a small allotment of government aid, according to my computations, the $25,000,000 would last 12 days."

"Once the federal government begins this responsibility, all other agencies of relief, private, state county, municipal are likely to lag. If there are 5,000,000 heads of families in need, the $25,000,000 appropriation seems appallingly small."

"You might also ask," said Rep. Byrns (D) of Tennessee, who favors the appropriation, "how long $10,000,000 will last, and that is all the Red Cross asks."

electorate on the prohibition question.

The form of the one bill would limit the referendum strictly to the state enforcement act, known as the Snyder-Armstrong bill. The measure is said to be one of the most drastic state enforcement acts in the nation and was passed during the first term of the legislature in the previous Pinchot administration.

The other bill would permit voters to indicate their choice on three phases of the prohibition situation. One question to be voted upon would require a "yes" or "no" vote on retention of the Eighteenth amendment, voters also would have an opportunity to indicate whether, in the event they favor retention of the amendment, they want it liberalized to permit manufacture of light wines and beer. The third question to be voted upon would be the state enforcement act, merely a duplicate of the other bill.

Pinchot Welcomes Move

HARRISBURG, Jan. 27.—Although he had not read the two senate resolutions proposing an investigation of the Public Service Commission and charges of public utility dominance in the state government, Governor Gifford Pinchot said today he would welcome such a move.

The governor said while he had not read the resolutions he had been advised of their contents. "Anything there is to be known about the Public Service Commission should be known," the Governor said.

While the senate does not have the power to compel a governor to appear before it to testify in investigations such as are proposed Pinchot said he would be glad publicly to present his side of the case.

speaker Goodnow recognized Witkin on a question of personal privilege.

Witkin ripped into the governor's inaugural address, demanding to know "who are the Hessians?" to which the governor referred in his inaugural speech attacking the public utilities. In that speech, the governor declared that supporters of a subversive move by the utilities to control the government were in a class with the Hessians who fought against the American revolutionary army.

Witkin objected to the governor's attacks on party politics in Philadelphia, declaring "Philadelphia wants helpful legislation and less abuse."

Open War Looked For

The personal privilege talk of the Philadelphia today was taken here as an indication that Philadelphia members are restless over the governor's attempt to elect his own candidate president pro tem of the senate and that open war may be looked for on many administration measures.

The attack on the governor was the second outburst of an otherwise uneventful session.

The first came when Rep. Turner called up his resolution against the Nye committee, introduced last week. Rep. Krug (D) of Berks, declared he saw of no member in the house who questioned Davis' right to his seat and that therefore the house should not sit as a jury and the resolution was not in order.

Rep. Baldrige, Allegheny asserted "it is time to tell the senate in Washington that Pennsylvania is entitled to two senators." and other supporting speeches were made by representatives Turner, Delaware; Beyer, Philadelphia, and Hart, Philadelphia. The resolution was adopted without roll call and now goes to the senate.

Many Bills Presented

Only slightly diminished, the flow of bills continued in the house, beside the whipping post measure, some of the bills presented were:

Kirkbridge, Montgomery.—Appropriating $100,000 to the department of public instruction for purchase of educational films and slides for their cars.

Hart, Philadelphia.—Appropriating $1,500 for a medal and scroll for Ralph Mojeska in recognition of his services in construction of the Philadelphia-Camden bridge.

Nothnagle, Delaware.—Repealing an act of 1867 providing for appointment by the court of a building inspector in Chester.

Fish, Philadelphia.—Making it unlawful to counterfeit coins or tokens used on transportation lines or in amusement places.

Wilson-Berks.—Trebling the compensation paid minors who are illegally employed.

Stewart, Clearfield.—Providing a $500 fine or 1 year imprisonment for denying an affidavit made in connection with election irregularities.

Storer, Allegheny.—Amending the constitution to provide $50,000,000 bond issues for payment of compensation to veterans of the various wars in which Pennsylvanians participated.

Sheeley, Adams.—Fixing voting tax of $2 in school districts.

HOUSE COMMITTEE CONTINUES WITH RELIEF HEARINGS

proportion would be made to match funds raised by the public. The subcommittee members, however, appeared hostile to the whole senate plan.

"On the basis of 5,000,000 idle workers, it means that 20,000,000 must be added," said Cranton. "On even a small allotment of government aid, according to my computations, the $25,000,000 would last 12 days."

"Once the federal government begins this responsibility, all other agencies of relief, private, state county, municipal are likely to lag. If there are 5,000,000 heads of families in need, the $25,000,000 appropriation seems appallingly small."

Deaths of the Day

Mrs. Cover's Funeral.

Funeral services for Mrs. Lillian M. Cover, wife of Merle Cover, were held Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the Edenburg M. E. church. The services were very largely attended and the floral offerings were many and beautiful. The Rev. Elmer O. Minnigh, pastor of the church, was in charge and was assisted by Rev. S. H. Barlett of New Wilmington and Rev. A. G. Montgomery of the Tent Hall U. P. church. The pallbearers were relatives. Interment was made in Oak Park cemetery.

Time of Funeral

Funeral services of the late John Freed of Newport will be held from his home in Newport on Thursday, Jan. 29, 1931, at two p. m. with Rev. W. H. Fenton in charge.

Mr. Freed was born in Newport and spent his entire life in that place. He leaves one brother, William J. Freed, of Newport, and two sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Rice of New Castle and Mrs. Joseph Veon of Newport.

CHORAL PROGRAM PRESENTED BY CLUB

A most delightful concert was presented in the Highland United Presbyterian church Monday evening to a capacity audience when the Music Club gave a choral program under the capable leadership of R. E. Johns. Miss Barbara Schultz acted as hostess for the evening.

Mr. Johns and members of the chorus are to be complimented upon their most excellent work. They sang with great clarity, splendid articulation and blending of parts. It is hoped that the chorus will continue this work and present many such programs.

Mrs. Paul Welsh proved herself to be most efficient accompanist giving the singers splendid support throughout the numbers.

Special features of the program were piano solos played by Miss Kathryn Lewis and cello numbers by Josephine Replogle. These two artists delighted the audience with their splendid performance in which they displayed fine technique and understanding of tone. Mr. Replogle was accompanied by Miss Mary Lofe.

The club feels indebted to Mr. Johns and Mrs. Paul Welsh for their untiring efforts to make this concert such a success.

The next meeting will be held at the Highland church on February 23 with Mrs. Robert E. Fleming in charge. At this time a program of ensemble music will be presented by Mrs. Fred Emery, Miss Helen Ewing, Mrs. Richard Allen and Miss Ruth Drescher.

CURRENT CLUB DISCUSS SINGING TOWER, MONDAY

A program of unusual interest was enjoyed by members of the Current Events of '23 on Monday afternoon when they met with Mrs. J. P. Allen, 209 Pearson street.

During the business session, a sum of money was given toward buying a book printed in Braille to be given to the Pennsylvania Educational society for the blind.

Mrs. Harry Marshall gave a complete report at this time of Club Institute which was held in the Y. W. C. A. on Tuesday, January 20. Also, other splendid and encouraging reports were made by Mrs. Reider, chairman of Home Work, Mrs. C. F. Flannery of the Health and Welfare committee, Mrs. C. J. Baker on Education and Mrs. Stewart Thompson on the work of the blind. Mrs. L. Pangratz gave a five minute talk on International Relations.

A paper on the Singing Tower located at Lake Wales, Florida, was prepared and read by Mrs. Sara Wright. Preceding this feature, she gave a short review of the life of William Edward Bok, donor of this magnificent tower and bird sanctuary to America. Mrs. Wright handled her subject in an instructive way, and made it most entertaining.

Roll-call was responded to by something regarding "Byd Life". The next gathering will be with Mrs. C. J. Baker on Monday, February 9.

Daughter Honored.

Mrs. James Edgington of Almira avenue entertained in a pleasing manner a group of 15 guests Monday evening in honor of her daughter Cecelia, she becoming 14 years old. Music, games and dancing filled in the social hours, and toward the close of the evening all were ushered into the dining room where they were served a dainty lunch. Mrs. Edgington was assisted by Mrs. Charles Richardson and Mrs. Earl White. The table appointments were cleverly carried out in pastel tones, in the favors, place cards and the large cake topped with 14 lighted candles, which formed the attractive centerpiece.

The guest of honor was the recipient of many beautiful gifts as a memento of the day.

Entertains Friends

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hogue of the Ellwood Road entertained a number of friends and relatives in their home Friday evening.

The evening was spent in games and music and later on the evening a dainty repast was served by Mrs. Norman Hogue assisted by Mrs. Dick King and Mrs. William Hogue.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Milton Hogue, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Hogue and daughter Marian, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Houk, Mr. and Mrs. Hogue and Mrs. Norman Hogue and Mrs. William Hogue, Robert Hogue, William Hogue, Mildred Hogue, Agnes Hogue, Ethel Waters, Victor Waters, Lena Jennings, Myrna Houk, Clara Houk, Helen Mattocks, Norman Houk and Arthur Fisher.

Union High School Event

Monday evening, members of the Senior Class of Union High school gathered in surprise fashion at the home of Myrtle Cox on West Washington street to honor her, the occasion being her birthday.

Eighteen guests were present to make merry, and a program of many diversions, including music and dancing, were enjoyed during the leisure time. At a selected hour a delicious lunch was served, the menu cards, favors and place marks being tastefully carried out in tones of pink and white. Mrs. M. K. Cox, the honor guest's mother and Mrs. Effie Morrison and Mrs. Agnes Beatty served the menu.

The guest of honor was the recipient of many lovely gifts from her class mates.

Auxiliary Party

The American Legion Auxiliary members held a card party in their Legion home Monday evening, with bingo and 500 being featured. At the close of the entertainment, it was found that the awards for honors in 500 were won by Mrs. Schriver, Mrs. Pitzer, John Papst and Frank Connors; in bingo, Lillie Hartman, Mrs. William Runkle, William Bush and James Brice were winners.

A tasty lunch was served at the close of the entertainment by the selected committee.

Mrs. Sherman Kirtson gave an interesting report on the Federation meeting held at the Y. W. C. A. on Tuesday, January 20, followed by the general discussion of current topics. They will meet again on February 9 at the home of Mrs. H. E. McNeese who resides at 138 Fairmont avenue.

This gathering will be in the form of a Valentine party. Mrs. P. N. Brest, Mrs. Jennie Ray and Mrs. W. E. McKee have been appointed on the committee to take charge of arrangements for this date.

Birthday Surpris: Party

Honoring the eleventh birthday of her son Lester, Mrs. Hanna Raub of 229 Northview avenue entertained a number of his Sunday School class of the First M. E. church in their home Monday evening to celebrate the occasion. Games and music were enjoyed and later the guests were invited into the dining room where they were served a delicious lunch by the honor guests mother.

Lester received many handsome gifts in memory of the day.

Dorcas Class Meeting

The Dorcas Class of the Central Christian church entertained at a tureen dinner in their church dining room Monday evening, for members and their husbands and families. The event was given in honor of J. E. Gordon who is conducting evangelical services in the Central Christian church.

After the serving of a delicious menu by the appointed committee, a general social time was enjoyed, spent informally.

T. L. T. Club

Mrs. Margaret Johnson of Superior street was hostess to the T. L. T. Club in her home Monday evening. As special guests the ladies had Mrs. Frank Dean, Mrs. E. C. McCracken and Miss Nancy Springer. Cards were played, and other pastimes were enjoyed, followed by a business session. The hostess served a dainty collation at a late hour.

On Tuesday, February 10 the club will be received at the home of Mrs. R. T. Thompson on Ray street.

Will Attend Party

This evening, the girl employees of the New Castle News Company will motor to Ellwood City to be the guests of Miss Kathryn Moorhead who will entertain with a theatre party. Later all will go to her home at 389 Pittsburgh Circle where the remaining hours will be spent socially.

LET THE ENGINEERS TRY

THE engineers want to balance economic forces and thus do away with the misery of periodic depressions.

Business men and economists haven't succeeded in accomplishing much along this line; the engineers probably can't do less and they might do more; the stakes are worth the attempt.

At the recent annual meeting of the American Engineering Council, which body represent 59,000 professional engineers in all parts of the United States, there was adopted a report advocating the establishment of some competent agency to integrate "the facts and information bearing on the balancing of the forces of consumption, production and distribution" for the purpose of "indicating and promoting methods and organizations designed to bring about a controlled balance between these forces."

That is a move to be highly commended and the more one thinks over the matter, the more one becomes convinced that it is a task which should fall into the lap of the engineer. He is in a large measure responsible for the rapid advance made by our forces of production; if he can step-up the forces of consumption and distribution and keep them more nearly on a level with production, he has solved the problem he helped create. Give the engineers a chance.

FEBRUARY

Februus is a Latin word meaning to cleanse. The early Romans had a feast day on which they went through the motions of expiating their many sins and cleansing themselves for approaching religious festivals. They called this feast day Februus and they named the month in which it came February.

In the earliest Roman calendar of ten months there was no February. Perhaps the Romans were so busy committing sins that they had no time to say that they were sorry for any of them.

But about 700 B. C., January was prefixed to the beginning of the year and February tacked on to the end of it. At that time February had thirty days. Then came Julius Caesar in 46 B. C. and reformed the calendar, making the year begin January 1. To perpetuate his exploits, he renamed Quintilis, originally the fifth month, as its name implies, but at that time the seventh, after himself, and took one day from February to give July 31 days, so it would be as long as any other month of the year. He provided, however, that February, thus left with 29 days, should have 30 days every fourth year.

Later Augustus Caesar wanted a month named after him, so he selected Sextilis, then the eighth month, but originally the sixth, and called it August. To make this month as long as the one named for Julius, he took another day from February leaving it only 28 days except in leap years.

GRUDGES

Do you carry grudges? Cast them aside. Your burden in life is heavy enough without them.

Do you boast of your grudges as a sign that you are a free man? Don't do it. Though you may have created your grudges and though you may feed them, they are your masters. You may carry your grudge uphill through life, but it will carry you only down.

How often is heard a voice in violent impatience. Smith cries: "If Jones is for it, I am against it." Then Jones controls Smith's mind more firmly than if he were his closest friend.

It is not worth while to waste energies and vitiate minds in hatred and resentment. It is right to hate evil, but merely to pity evil men.

If you have been wronged, forget. You suffered enough at the time.

Do you long for revenge or to "get even" with some enemy actual or imaginary? You magnify his triumph. You continue his ascendancy. You hypnotize yourself within his spell.

It doesn't pay.

Many happinesses are shared by the least fortunate, and many misfortunes befall the happiest. None of us can well afford to spend the hours of retrospect and prospect in other than the happiest memories and the brightest hopes that charity and love can summon.

END THE IMMUNITY PRIVILEGE

For a long time there has been growing opposition to the constitutional provision which gives a public officer immunity from prosecution should he testify regarding his own acts. It has been felt that this clothed those guilty of crime with a defense which often could not be overcome.

Now an endeavor is to be made to end this special privilege by providing that acceptance of office automatically waives this. In short, should the proposal become part of our statutes, an official could be forced to testify even if it incriminated him.

Any man accepting a public post takes upon himself certain obligations. The private individual is supposed, through birth in this country, to have thus subscribed to our laws, and to respect them and to aid in their enforcement. The alien, in becoming a citizen, subscribes to this.

But, most of all, the man elevated by election or appointment to public office takes upon himself a solemn obligation to observe and to enforce our laws. If an alien, he has taken a double oath, and if a citizen by birth has strengthened the obligation to honor and to obey our statutes.

Realizing this, it is far worse for a public official than for an individual to commit a crime. Not merely as an example, but because he is repudiating a sacred oath voluntarily made by himself.

There is no valid reason for continuing this immunity—it is an ancient custom that will be more honored in the breach than in the observance. But so long as it exists, we may be certain that officials who have erred will take advantage of it to protect themselves.—The Schenectady Gazette.

"You know," he said, "I am now chief of my department. Three years ago there were two men in the office who held positions superior to mine. One was dismissed through drunkenness. The other was led into crime. He is now serving a long term of imprisonment, and all through the influence of strong drink. "I'm sure you will like Jack," said the eldest daughter just home from college. "He's a fine young man."

"Has he got any property?" demanded her father.

"Oh, you men are so curious," sighed the girl. "Jack asked the same thing about you."

Fine servants make poor masters. We now learn that there are professional smellers of hams, to make sure the latter are just right before they are placed on the market, and that made us think our smellers must have had a bad cold.

IS THIS MODERN FAMILY LIFE?

I take off my hat to Mrs. Anonymous, a rebellious mother of four. She has written an article called "This Business of Parenthood" for Harper's Magazine, and it tears me easily it'll make you cry. Even if they don't, it'll wring your heart.

She has four children and a husband, and the husband earns only a middle-sized income, and the ends don't meet. So she has poured out her grievances in words for a printed page. She isn't whining, she's exploding—and I'm glad she did.

She was young, well-educated, widely traveled, enjoyed pleasant living, pretty clothes, plenty of sleep, dancing and the admiration of young men. She wanted a home, she wanted a family, she wanted to do her job properly. She has the home and the family and now she thinks Dante wasted his energies writing about an imaginary inferno when he might have discussed the hell of being a modern mother on a very limited income.

The trouble is: She Hasn't Enough Money. She doesn't blame her husband; he may have a larger income later on, but he hasn't it now and unfortunately the time when money is most convenient is when there are babies and young children whose demands never cease, and who drag and pull at a young mother until she wants to scream in pain and irritation.

She isn't strong. She can't hire a maid. She needs eight or nine hours of sleep, but she doesn't get them. She isn't pretty and she needs personal care and good clothes to be half-way attractive, but she doesn't get them, either.

Her husband is in a profession and he must entertain and live in a "good neighborhood"; so they can't move across the tracks. And the years have been bringing her resentment and "continued and stifled resentment" (she says) is an acid which curdles the cream of any nature."

She feels the years slipping drably by and she is sorry for herself and her husband, but she is just as sorry for her four children because she cannot give them all the love they need nor the kind of motherhood they ought to have nor the kind of lives all children deserve. She sees them slipping away from what they ought to be—and she's worried and bitter.

It's a dark picture of marriage that young Mrs. Anonymous has given us—and I, for one, am glad she's given it. Somebody may say that she should have kept her troubles to herself, but they aren't only her troubles. She knows other women who have the same difficulties making both ends meet with ease and aplomb like the dashing young man on the flying trapeze. And she hopes it may help a little to do some family washing in public.

It's a fair picture of marriage that state and they went a bit wild and acted in an unseemly manner last fall when they triumphed Nebraska.

There were there, will be few tears wasted in this part of the country if Governor Murray gives the Oklahoma team and gives it a chance to feel the depression that follows getting on the short end of the financial score. * * * What we are wondering is just what Governor Murray will say next fall in the last few minutes of the last quarter when Oklahoma has time, five yards away from its own goal, until the gun cracks. A moving picture of the governor's facial contortions during two minutes at such a crisis might answer all he has said and more too."

Indicated radical changes at the States institutions of learning," in the opinion of the KANSAS CITY TIMES, "will create serious misgivings in educational circles. Football might be subordinated, or even dispensed with; but it might be assumed that reduction of teaching forces by one-half and other changes of like nature belong in a slightly different category. Oklahoma's experience with free universities has not been entirely free from criticism. The present executive of the state seems to anticipate an element of strife in his administration. It should be hoped that nothing detrimental to the state's best interests will be a result. The governor faces his opportunity. Oklahoma awaits the issue."

"His ideas about colleges," states the INDIANAPOLIS STAR, "may not please the rah-rah boys on the bleachers, but they are such as one would expect from a man whose bleached whiskers and seamed face have known the burning heat of the desert and the biting gales from the Northwest." He can see no reason why a plumber or a carpenter should work eight hours a day while a professor may escape with seven. He also believes that a "bunkhouse" should be established in which legislators would live, secure from the advances of nefarious lobbyists. The Governor would guard the lawmakers as carefully as a murder jury. That suggestion is likely to be vigorously opposed by the lawmakers, who would be minus a number of lovely little dinner parties. The Governor says that lobbyists use poker, liquor, women and even money for bribery. That charge will alarm the public in numerous states where the legislatures are now in session. But it probably is only an old Oklahoma custom."

Governor Murray's objections to "departmental practice on the part of legislators," according to the OKLAHOMA CITY OKLAHOMAN, "will receive hearty approval." That paper continues: "The people who deplore and condemn an unwelcome practice will do well to follow the course of their representatives in this matter. They may possibly see a wise and patriotic body of lawmakers answering the call of duty and putting an end to a practice which has wrought real injury to the state. Or they may see a truculent body of departmental fee seekers holding fast to the promise of a miserable mess of statehouse potage. If the evil is one-half as bad as the governor intimates and the people believe, it will be extremely difficult to pass the measure the governor recommends. For legislators brazen enough to convert their offices into a profession so pitiful will be brazen enough to fight to the death to save their malodorous perquisites. On the other hand, the quick and easy enactment of the law the governor asks for will be a fair indication that the evil complained of is not so widespread and deep seated as the people believe."

"He has left no doubt," according to the WALLA WALLA BULLETIN, "that he is going to cut taxes in Oklahoma and do it by abolishing the soft jobs which people are holding at the expense of the state. Every now and then fellows of this type get elected to high office. Their clinching argument is to the effect that the bunch in office is getting fat at the expense of taxpayers and the only way to remedy matters is with a new deal. The more color such a candidate can put into his speeches, the more votes he is likely to get. It's a great vote getter, but it doesn't count for much more."

"Comparing such colorful personalities with more humdrum executives of the big industrial states," says the NEW YORK WORLD, "we can be thankful for the picturesqueness of the Alfalfa Bills." The PITTSBURGH POST-GAZETTE advises that "sometimes picturesqueness individuals fool those who look to them only for bizarre performances." The WORCESTER EVENING GAZETTE predicts that "if it comes to a showdown, and Alfalfa Bill should be removed by impeachment, he may be relied upon to make things lively before he goes." The NEW YORK EVENING POST feels that "there is no doubt he knows fully as much about the technique of this Governor's job as any of the eight men who preceded him in the chair."

Quoting the Governor's remark that "all he has to do is to whistle and an army of 100,000 citizens will be at his side," the CHARLESTON (S. C.) NEWS AND COURIER comments: "If other states were as hair-triggerish in officially accusing their governors as the young state of Oklahoma is, they would be sending many first citizens to rest cures." "Alfalfa Bill" is probably sounding off for the purpose of alarming the enemy. He does not suggest the grounds for an effort at impeachment. The distant onlooker does not understand why the governor should be scenting peril afar. However, the situation is an Oklahoma commonplace."

THE UNPOPULAR BORROWER
The person who asks too many favors finds himself in disfavor. Perhaps you are this sort and a borrower of money, in small sums. You think a loan should not be refused because you intend to repay.

But do you pay back what you owe? Those who borrow in small sums soon forget about it.

Then it is embarrassing to have to ask the return of a small amount. Rather than request the borrower to pay a debt it seems easier to lose the money.

In order to save money you may deposit your wages too closely. Then when unusual demands come your pocketbook goes flat and you borrow enough from a friend to carry you over till next pay day.

Generally people dislike to lend money and some show this plainly. The majority budget and live so close to their allowance that it leaves very little to play on each week.

Making loans to another interferes with plans and self-denial is imposed that is unpleasant. The frequent borrower is unpopular in any establishment.

Usually, if he were as careful with his money as those from whom he borrows, he would not have to ask such favors.

I had no love for pleasure fled. My youthful eyes were turned ahead; Tomorrow was the day I sought. So far my yesterdays seemed naught. What was to happen gripped me more.

Than all that I had known before. But older men seemed quite content To live again the years they'd spent. The joys they'd known; the trials borne.

The nights it had been their to mourn. As if no pleasure they could find To equal those they'd left behind.

And now like them I, too, am gray. Like them I cling to yesterday. Like them in reminiscence I Re-live the years long traveled by. And no doubt bore my youngster too.

Alfalfa Bill's Reforms Stir Interest But Not Conviction

Picturesque Nature Of Oklahoma Governor's Inauguration In Recognized While His Challenge To Enemies Is Believed To Promise Action

Inauguration of William H. Alfalfa Bill Murray, governor of Oklahoma, arouses national interest because of his attack on college athletics, his desire to guard legislators against lobbyists, an effort to cut taxation, and expression of a belief that practice by legislators before the departments is against public policy. Sympathy is expressed, but there is little thought that he will be able to effect reforms. The picturesque character of his induction into office, coupled with his challenge to his enemies who might want to impeach him, gives color to the scene reproduced in general comment.

Commenting on the Governor's objection to the item of $52,000 a year for the sports "fascy" at the State university, his belief that the faculty members should "teach eight hours a day if they expect to draw full pay," the CLEVELAND NEWS says: "The picturesque Mr. Murray, two-fisted, hale and hearty, would hardly seem the type to favor the raising of a race of mollycoddies. Perhaps, he reasons, every true son and daughter of Oklahoma should by the time he or she goes to college, have attained sufficient physical development to make gymnasiums and stadiums unnecessary. Or, perhaps, because he was once a frontier schoolmaster he is determined to make the mills of knowledge grind in Oklahoma as they never ground before. The item of $52,000 a year for coaches and athletic instructors may or may not be too high for the state school of Oklahoma, but Mr. Murray seems to be in danger of belittling the importance of physical training in the lives of students."

"If he fails in his effort to minimize expenditures for football and other athletics at the University of Oklahoma," suggests the LINCOLN STATE JOURNAL, "it may be because the sports will get him. There is a fair football following in that state and they went a bit wild and acted in an unseemly manner last fall when they triumphed Nebraska. There were there, will be few tears wasted in this part of the country if Governor Murray gives the Oklahoma team and gives it a chance to feel the depression that follows getting on the short end of the financial score. * * * What we are wondering is just what Governor Murray will say next fall in the last few minutes of the last quarter when Oklahoma has time, five yards away from its own goal, until the gun cracks. ## Wets Hopeful Of Modifying Howell Bone-Dry Measure

Dry Leaders Defend Drastic
Capital 'Bone-Dry Bill', Say Police Are Helpless

SEVERAL DRY CAUSE SURPRISE

Wet Forces Hope At Least To Eliminate Few Provisions Of Bill

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—The ever-widening senate war over the Howell bill, designed to turn the National Capital into a prohibition "Sahara" today found the wets hopeful of modifying its "drier than Volstead" provisions for searching private homes.

Dry leaders defended the drastic bill, charging that bootleggers ran wild in Washington, with the police helpless under existing laws. Wets countered by protesting against imposing on the voters citizens of Washington a new experiment in enforcing the 18th amendment.

"Don't try it on the dog in Washington," protested Senator Hawes (D) of Missouri, a wet. "If we invade the constitution here, the next step will be to strike down our constitutional rights in the states."

The wets were jubilant over their strong showing in the test votes so far. The bill was taken up for consideration last week by a vote of 39 to 29, the wets voting against it. Yesterday, the dries kept it before the senate by a vote of 45 to 28, with numerous senators paired. On both votes constitutional dries voted with the wets as a protest against enacting more drastic prohibition legislation.

Dries Cause Surprise
There was considerable amazement in the senate over the fact that Senator Glass (D) of Virginia counted as a dry, voted with the wets and announced his colleague, Senator Swanson, would do likewise. Another surprise was the vote of Senator Walsh (D) of Montana, with the wets. Walsh some time ago announced he would obey any mandate of his constituents on the prohibition question, although always a personal dry.

Senator Howell (R) of Nebraska in charge of the bill, charged Capitol bootleggers were "running wild," while Senator Trammell (D) of Florida, declared "some of the judges in this city are in conspiracy—in spirit at least—with the bootlegging interests."

While the dries maintained a majority to prevent defeat of the bill, it was likely some of the most drastic provisions would be eliminated. Senator Borah (R) of Idaho, noted constitutionalist, declared he would not support the proposed "search and seizure" provisions, allowing a search warrant on visible evidence of bootlegging.

Services Continue At Greenwood Church

Dr. Monroe Vayhinger To Preach Every Night Except Saturday This Week

Evangelistic services in progress at Greenwood M. E. church, of which Rev. S. R. Maitland is pastor, will be continued all week, meetings being held each evening except Saturday. Dr. Monroe Vayhinger, former president of Taylor university is preaching.

The services so far have been inspiring. On Sunday three meetings were held with the church crowded. The Gibbons sisters sang at the service, contributing much to the program.

It is announced by Rev. Maitland that a special feature of the service on Thursday evening will be choir singing by a group of colored singers from this city. These singers took part in one of the services last week and made a wonderful impression.

Museum At State Capitol Has Appeal

(From News Bureau)
(State Capital)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 27.—One of the most interesting, and the least advertised places of interest in the Pennsylvania State Capitol is the State Museum, located in the Library Building, immediately east of the Capitol. Here the lover of historic lore can spend a day with profit, here can be found a physical history of Pennsylvania's development, here are found specimens of animal, floral and mineral treasures of the Keystone state.

The lover of Indian relics will find here one of the most unusual collections to be seen in the entire country, the collection of Indian artifacts recently purchased from Gerald B. Fenstermaker of Lancaster County. The exhibit is low on display, and is so fascinating that the visitor loses all sense of time as he passes from one group of relics to the other.

This remarkable collection of more than 200,000 specimens is the result of ten years digging and searching in Lancaster, York, Berks and Carbon Counties and consist of Iroquoian pottery, of more than 100 complete vessels of various shapes and sizes, pipes of clay and stone, and bone and stone carvings.

Hundreds of working implements of stone consisting of axes, hammers, etc. Remarkable collection of stoneware vessels in various stages of construction, with tools used in making them; mortars and pestles, and thousands of arrow points, spears, knives, scrapers, and many utilitarian objects used in the everyday life of prehistoric Pennsylvania.

Outstanding among the purely aboriginal objects found by Mr. Fenstermaker are the mysterious banner stones, gorge.s, and one very unusual and beautiful carved stone face mask.

Perhaps the most unique objects in this collection are the miniature war clubs made of bone and beautifully carved. These are extremely rare and are made identical with the war clubs used by the Iroquoian tribes at the time they first came in contact with the white settlers. The handle of one of these represents the split hoof of an animal, while another is the likeness of an animal with claw feet.

There are many carved objects, among which are turtles of stone, bone and brass, and objects made of shells, such as wampum beads. The collection is particularly rich in articles traded to the Indians by Europeans, including kettles, axes, ad. cs, hoes, knives, tomahawks, bells, jews harps, and ornaments of various kinds, such as rings, bracelets, bangles, spoons, and other objects.

The most attractive feature of the entire collection, probably is the exhibit of thousands of trade beads, these are of every hue and size, making the largest known collection in this part of the country. There are also other beads made of brass, bone, stone, and porcelain to be found in the exhibit.

This collection, is displayed in specially constructed and illuminated cases, arranged on the first floor of the State Museum.

Counsel For Daisy Devoe Is Planning New Trial Appeal

Elonde Former Secretary To
Clara Bow Will Appeal
Next Monday For Sentence

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Jan. 27.—Attorney William Biernie today was familiarizing himself with the testimony in the recent grand theft trial of Daisy Devoe, former secretary of Clara Bow, who was found guilty on a charge of having appropriated $825 of the screen star's funds.

Miss Devoe will appear for sentence next Monday at which time Attorney Biernie plans to present arguments for a new trial for his client. In the meantime Miss Devoe occupies a cell in the county jail.

An appeal from Miss Bow to District Attorney Burton Pitts asking that leniency be shown the blonde secretary failed to impress Miss Devoe in her jail cell.

"Clara's ways are not my ways," she said. "I would rather not comment on anything Miss Bow does. It's nice enough for her to write the letter, but it must be remembered that if Clara had thought a little more before she started all this it would not have happened."

Untenanted Farm House Destroyed

(International News Service)

IRWIN, Pa., Jan. 27.—Fire of undetermined origin destroyed an untenanted farmhouse owned by Steven Carsell on the Manor-Jeanette road, near here, today, with loss estimated by firemen at $2,000.

Fire companies from Jeanette, Penn. and Irwin were unable to check the flames because no water supply was available and the firemen confined their efforts to the use of chemicals in battling the flames. Firemen said the house was vacated by its previous tenants last Saturday.

Pittsburgh Drug Store Is Robbed

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 27.—"Give me everything but the pennies."

With this command one of two dapperly dressed gunmen who today held up the Dow Drug company store at Diamond and Smithfield streets forced two clerks to hand over more than $200 from the three cash registers in the store.

"Now, you can call the police, but don't come out to the street," was the parting remark of the two thugs as they left the store.

The bandits overlooked a safe on the balcony of the store which contained several thousand dollars.

Government

Regular meeting of Colonel Charles Young Post No. 528, American Legion, at its meeting last evening, endorsed the cash payment of the adjusted compensation certificates given World War service men.

There was a good attendance of the members and most of the members of last year were found to have paid up their dues for the current year. It was also decided to put on a drive for new members and an effort will be made to have all former colored World War service men join.

At the regular meeting to be held February 9, it is hoped that it will be possible to report that the membership of last year has been exceeded. All former colored service men, whether legionaries or not will be welcomed at this meeting, which will be held in the regular place of meeting, 119½ West Washington street.

Whirled On Wheel, Dies From Injuries

BUTLER, Pa., Jan. 27.—Injuries received a week ago when he was caught in the bull wheel of an oil well near Butler, caused the death of Carl Rozie, 33 in the Butler hospital today. Rozie was helping his father, Joseph Rozie, and brother in placing tubing in a well on their farm, near Sheridan, when the tubing started to drop into the well. He ran to the bull wheel and tried to halt it, but his sleeves were caught in a lug of the machine and he was carried around the wheel several times.

One arm was practically torn from his body, and muscles of the back were loosened. Infection developed from the injuries.

James McCormick Sustains Injury To Leg, Bruises To Body, Last Night

James McCormick, R. D. 1, New Castle sustained a lacerated leg and bruises and a horse was so badly injured it had to be shot, following an auto-wagon collision along the Butler highway, a mile from the city line last evening.

State Highway Patrolman Baxter reported Harry McCormick, R. D. 1, New Castle was operating a truck in the same direction as a horse and wagon was being driven by Joseph Cioffi, 14, R. D. 1 New Castle.

There were no rear lights on the wagon and the headlights of the truck which Harry McCormick operated were not too good with the result the truck struck the wagon.

by JOSEPH VAN RAALTE

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—American society has become more American, according to Corney Vanderbilt Jr., reformed newspaper man and authority on life, love, literature, art, tennis, ping-pong and fifteen-ball pool.

"Title-hunting is over," he says. "The daughters of Social Register families are being married to American men."

And right on top of that word comes from Paris that Mary McCormick, Chicago's colorful opera singer doesn't think much of the American man as a spouse. She insists that she and Pola Negri's Georgian Prince Serge Mdivani are to marry as soon as the divorce court grants The Necessary Papers.

"The American man," says Mary, "cannot come up to the European as a model husband. I would rather marry fifty Europeans in my life than one American."

When doctors disagree, it's up to the undertaker.

Peter's Adventures

NO PLACE FOR ONE WAY STREET

"It's a brave hunter who does not pick on prey half his size!" declared Peter, and the little Black slave nodded.

"You're right, boy!" said she. "And nine times out of ten the Black Hunters go out after game that are twice as big as they are. No worm is too fat, no grub too husky for them to get their eyes on. And how the fat worm and the husky grub fear the Black Ants' mandibles! Let them but spy the hunters crawling along, and off they scuttle. The hunters pursue and strike with their sharp mandibles. And that's an end to the fat worm and the husky grub. But then the problem is, how to get the game home to the ant-hill! The hunters push and they tug and off they go. But the burden is heavy and by and by they are forced to drop it. Then they rest for a moment or two and off they go again, but not for far nor for long. Again they sink down. Then another hunt-

Mission Members Name Two Men To Attend Presbytery

East New Castle Mission Is To Become A Presbyterian Church
Sunday afternoon at a meeting of the members of the East New Castle Mission, it was decided that this organization, which has been doing a wonderful work among the people of that district for many years should become affiliated with the Presbyterian church and I. A. Lytle and W. E. Ferry were selected to represent the mission at the meeting of Shenango Presbytery to be held February 9, in the Central Presbyterian church, when that body considers the petition of the mission members to become affiliated with it as the governing body of that church in this section.

Decision to become affiliated with the Presbyterian church was made Sunday afternoon at the meeting conducted by Rev. Ross M. Haverfield, pastor of Westfield Presbyterian church, following the regular Bible study period of the mission. Rev. Haverfield conducted a short worship service in which he had as his text: "Better Foundation hath no man laid than that which is laid in Christ Jesus." Following his sermon, he as representative of the Shenango Presbytery presented the formal type of petition required in asking the presbytery to organize the mission as a Presbyterian church.

The meeting decided to sign the petition and it is to be signed by all members of the mission desiring to be charter members of the church that will be organized. It is anticipated that there will be more than a hundred signers of the petition. This petition will be presented at the meeting of the Presbytery when it convenes in the Central Presbyterian church on Monday, February 9 by the representatives named at the meeting Sunday.

Following the acceptance of the petition by the Presbytery, that body will appoint a commission of members of the Presbytery, who will conduct a meeting of the members of the newly organized church and select elders, deacons, trustees and other officers.

A name for the new church will also be selected following the admittance of the mission into Shenango Presbytery.

SHANGHAI, Jan. 27.—The fate of G. W. Brophy, American flier enroute to Canton from Foochow, was in doubt today following failure to arrive at his destination long after he was due.

It was believed he was forced down in the mountainous Fukien region.

Brophy left Shanghai several days ago intending to fly to Canton and from there to Manila. Adverse weather forced him down at Foochow, where he resumed his trip yesterday.

Rheumatism Goes Swollen Joints Vanish

How To End Rheumatism In Less Than A Week
If you suffer from torturing rheumatic pains, sore muscles or stiff inflamed joints, it's because your system is full of the dangerous poisons that cause rheumatism and make thousands helpless. What you need is RU-MA, and need it right now.

RU-MA acts on the blood, stomach, kidneys and liver, and drives the dangerous rheumatic poisons from the system through the natural channels of elimination—it eases pain the first day.

You must use an internal medicine to free the joints and muscles of crippling stiffness, soreness and torturing pain. That's why RU-MA succeeds while external remedies and pain denuding drugs give only temporary relief.

New Castle Drug Co., Eckerd's says no matter what kind of rheumatism you have, or how long you have suffered, try RU-MA—it must completely end all rheumatic agony or you get your money back.

David F. Kyle Is Installing Officer

Local Grangers Visit Grange In Venango County Recently
A party of Lawrence county grangers motored to Venango county recently, where they held a joint installation of the subordinate and juvenile officers of Wesley Grange, near Franklin.

David F. Kyle, former Pomona Grange Master of Lawrence county, acted as installing officer and was assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Scott Munnell, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Hunt, Mrs. W. C. Mayberry, Mrs. D. F. Kyle and Leslie McCracken.

The ladies of Wesley Grange served a fine oyster supper to about 125 patrons and visitors. Every officer of the grange was present for the ceremony. William Sopher was installed as master, Mrs. Hunsberger as lecturer and C. F. Hunsberger as chaplain.

Fakers Must Fail In Their Absurd Appeals To the Fat

Fakers have flourished in their appeals to the over-fat. Not many remain. Some of their methods were harmful, some absurd. All have perished quickly in the test.

One reason is that medical science has found a great cause of excess fat. It lies in a lacking gland secretion which must be supplied. Doctors the world over now supply it, and excess fat in late years has been going fast.

A world-famous medical laboratory embodies this factor in Marmola prescription tablets. Not to oppose doctors, but to supply their best help in a very economical way. This Marmola opens this right way to millions who might otherwise go wrong.

Marmola has been used for 24 years—millions of boxes of it. The use has grown and grown, while the frauds disappeared by the scores. Now in every circle you can see the results. Your own friends can recite them. Slender figures are the vogue.

Marmola, in every box, gives the formula complete. It also tells you why the fat goes, why new vim appears.

If you have been enticed by fakes, by silly claims, go now and use what doctors use. Combat your fat in the right and scientific way. Gain normal figure, normal vim, Nature's way. Then tell your friends about it—they should know. Go now and order a $1 box from your druggist. Read the book, watch the many good results.

Communists And Fascists Battle, One Meets Death

Fascists And Communists Clash At Geesthacht, Germany—Police Quell Trouble

(International News Service)
GEESTHACHT, Germany, Jan. 27.—One person was killed and 25 were wounded in a pitched gun battle today between Fascists, Communists and police.

Truckloads of police reserves rushed from nearby Hamburg finally succeeded in restoring order, and placing 80 of the combatants under arrest.

The fighting began when 200 Communist "storm troops" attempted to break up a Fascist mass meeting here by firing revolvers. The Fascists, reinforced by a protective detachment of police, barricaded themselves and quickly replied with volleys after volleys of gunfire. In the ensuing firing, scores were wounded, with three policemen receiving serious injuries.

The clash was one of the worst experienced in the so-called "secret civil war" declared in progress by officials of the government.

Captain Hawks And Wife Start Flight

Famous Airman And Wife Start Flight To Fort Worth And Abilene, Texas

(International News Service)
NORTH BEACH, N. Y., Jan. 27.—Captain Frank M. Hawks, accompanied by his wife, took off from Curtiss Airport here this morning at 3:15 o'clock for a flight to Fort Worth and Abilene, Texas. The flier expected to reach Abilene at about 5:30 this afternoon.

Hawks planned to stop en route at Cleveland, Detroit and Indianapolis. He also probably will take on fuel at Little Rock, Ark.

From Fort Worth, Hawks will go to Abilene, where he will be joined by Will Rogers. They will resume their tour of the southwest in the interest of the Red Cross relief drive for drought sufferers.

Captain Hawks flew here from Texas Sunday to fill speaking engagements.

To End a Cough In a Hurry, Mix This at Home

To end a stubborn cough quickly, it is important to soothe and heal the inflamed membranes, get rid of the germs and also to aid the system inwardly to help throw off the trouble.

For these purposes, here is a home-made medicine, far better than anything you could buy at 3 times the cost. From any druggist, get 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle, and add plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey to fill up the pint. This takes but a moment, and makes a remedy so effective that you will never do without, once you have used it. Keeps perfectly, and children like it.

This simple remedy does three necessary things. First, it loosens the germ-laden phlegm. Second, it soothes away the inflammation. Third, it is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly on the bronchial tubes. This explains why it brings such quick relief, even in the obstinate bronchial coughs which follow cold epidemics.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form, and known as one of the greatest healing agents for severe coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

Former Kaiser Wilhelm Observing Birthday In Simple, Quiet Manner

Former Ruler Of German Empire Reaches His Seventy-Second Milestone In Life

Germany With Possible Minor Exceptions Passes Up Once National Celebration

By WALTER DIETZEL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, Jan. 27.—Hale and hearty on his seventy-second birthday anniversary and still as closely astride of important world events as in the days when he was Emperor of Germany, William Hohenzollern II today gathered his immediate family and a few close friends about him at Doorn, Holland, and quietly observed the natal milestone. Germany, with minor exceptions, overlooked the calendar mark that once signified a day of national celebration.

Simple Celebration
Contrary to the pomp and military splendor that glorified the previous anniversary, the Ex-Kaiser this year preferred to pass the occasion in the simple manner of the Dutch countryside. Two of his sons were absent from the family circle, however. Prince Oscar is recuperating in Germany from an appendicitis operation while Prince Eitel Friedrich was prevented from making the journey to Doorn by a slight attack of grippe.

The faint reminder of glamorous military days will come later in the day, when a few Dutch notables and several leading German monarchists gather about the luncheon and dinner table with the deposed war lord. This morning the entire household from the Ex-Kaiser down to the charwoman attended divine services.

Held Responsible
The former Emperor's 72nd birthday anniversary coincides with the beginning of an elaborate "Rehabilitation campaign" partly directed by him and propelled by Ex-Kaiserists for the purpose of counteracting the allegedly unfavorable impression created by the recently published memoirs of the late chancellor Prince Von Buelow.

In these reminiscences, Von Buelow held William II solely responsible for certain political actions which caused worldwide sensations. These were the famous Daily Telegraph interview, the Kruger Telegram and the Kaiser's visit to Tangier. All three charges have already been repudiated by the deposed ruler in an indirect interview printed in a Munich paper.

Will Pay Tribute
General Ernst Waechter, chairman of the league of "Loyal Kaiserists," foresaw advantage in the Von Buelow memoirs in that they "provided a boomerang and will therefore help to rehabilitate the Ex-Kaiser." The National peoples' party will pay tribute to the Ex-Kaiser at a mass meeting tonight, the Agrarian Press hailed the former war lord, assuring him of their unswerving loyalty. Yesterday 1,000 members of the Kaiserist league formally observed the anniversary.

Institute Occurs On February 5 In Second Church

Theme Of Coming Conference Will Be "The Child, Its Needs"

A Children's Division Institute is to be held at the Second United Presbyterian church, County Line street, Thursday afternoon and evening, February 5, under the supervision of Mrs. M. E. Vaughn, superintendent of the Children's Division, Lawrence County Sabbath School Association. Miss Lillian E. Reed, Children's Division Superintendent, Pennsylvania State Sabbath School Association will address the institute on "Methods for Teaching Children" and will hold conference. The theme of the conference is "The Child, Its Needs" and the scripture is "Suffer the Little Children to Come Unto Me and Forbid Them Not For of Such Is The Kingdom of Heaven." The afternoon session starts with registration at 1:30 o'clock and devotionals will be held at 1:45 o'clock with Rev. A. J. Randles in charge. At 2 o'clock, Mrs. S. H. Shaw, superintendent of the Children's Division of the Slippery Rock District will discuss the subject "Is Missionary and Temperance Instruction Given the Place They Should Have in the Church School Program?" Miss Lillian E. Reed will speak at 2:15 p. m. and at 3 o'clock there will be a conference on Cradle roll department, followed half an hour later by a conference on Beginner Department. At 4 o'clock there will be a question box followed by adjournment. At 6 o'clock there will be a Friendship supper in the church dining room, for those making reservations. Those planning to attend should notify Mrs. M. E. Vaughn, phone 3616 R.

The evening session starts at 7:30 o'clock with devotionals by Miss Anna Perry, administrative superintendent. Lawrence County Association. Special music will be furnished at 7:45 o'clock. This will be followed by awards to primary and junior departments. Conference for primary and junior departments will then be held, after which the address of the evening will be given by Rev. G. S. Bennett, pastor of the First Christian church on the subject "For Their Sake."

The awards made at the evening session will be in the nature of interesting and instructive books on Children's Division work. These books will be presented to the Sabbath School of Lawrence county having the best percentage of officers and teachers of the children's department present. One will go to the officers and teachers of the primary department and the other to those of the junior department. For the benefit of the Children's Division superintendents of the eight districts of the county association, it is planned by Mrs. Vaughn to have these superintendents reach every Sabbath School in their districts and see that all interested in Children's division work are invited. The Sabbath School superintendents are also urged to announce the institute at the sessions of their schools next Sunday.

Educational Group Call On City For Exhibit At Confab

Dr. Green Invited To Explain Planning Of New Castle Elementary School

The national advisory council on school building problems, operating under the direction of William John Cooper, United States Commissioner of Education, has selected New Castle as one of 16 cities in the middle Atlantic states to prepare an exhibit for the superintendent's convention of the National Educational Association, which will be held in Detroit, February 21-26.

Dr. C. C. Green, Superintendent of Schools, has been requested to make a report on the functional planning of an elementary school building. Dr. Green has selected the Arthur McGill school, Albert street and Norwood avenue, which is a model institution, for this purpose.

Architect Thayer is preparing an exhibition according to the specifications laid down by Commissioner Cooper. This exhibit will be shown during the Detroit convention and undoubtedly will attract considerable attention. In addition, it is believed that the model elementary school as demonstrated by the New Castle schools, will bring widespread publicity to this city.

The exhibit from New Castle will be of a technical nature. It will consist of numerous plans and specifications of the McGill school. The report of the functional planning of an elementary school as made by Superintendent Green, will be published in book form and will comprise a complete review of the convention proceedings.

Program Is Now Being Arranged For Next Dinner And Program

Invitations are now being mailed to members of the New Castle Consistory for the next Consistory Dinner Club party, which will be held on Friday evening, February 6, at the Castleton. The program is being arranged for the occasion, and a big crowd is looked for.

The committee asks that reservations be returned by Wednesday, February 4.

Reports 1100 Men Have Been Called

About 300 Have Failed To Report Or Have No Residence Here

Councilman Stanley Treser in charge of the construction of a storm sewer in Meyer avenue and widening of The Narrows stated today that approximately 1100 of the 1400 men who registered as unemployed, have been given work since the two projects got under way. The other men either did not report for work or held residence outside of the city.

A catch-basin is being built at Highland and Meyer avenue and rock is being blasted from the west bank of The Narrows. Owing to slow progress the councilman has only 50 men working on each job during the first three days of the current week. Another 100 will be put to work Thursday.

Cars Collide On Arlington Avenue

Driver Fined On Reckless Driving Charge By Acting Mayor Burns

Three machines figured in a collision on Arlington avenue last evening, the driver of one of the cars, E. A. Garvin, being fined $50 on a charge of reckless driving when he appeared for a hearing before Acting Mayor W. T. Burns this morning.

According to the story told to the police, Garvin was driving a rented car, which crashed into a machine owned by Henry J. Mortimer of 1320 East Washington street, which had been left parked on Arlington avenue, careened across the street and struck another car on the other side and then crashed into the East Side Shoe Doctor Shop.

Garvin was taken into custody following the accident and was released for a hearing this morning. Garvin received a cut lip in the collision, and the cars were considerably damaged.

Harold, Jr., Born

When the tiny Harold, Jr., four-pound boy, born to Mrs. Harold Lloyd, wife of the film comedian, was placed in an incubator upon its premature arrival in a Hollywood hospital, a set of small white beads inscribed Harold Lloyd, Jr., was placed around the infant's neck. The beads were taken to the hospital seven years ago, when Gloria Lloyd was born. Mrs. Lloyd, above, who formerly was Mildred Davis, was her husband's leading lady before their marriage.

Evangelist To Resume Sermons Tuesday Night

Evangelist Gordon Will Speak On Interesting Topic Tonight

"Is The Conscience A Safe Guide in Religion?" will be the subject of the sermon to be delivered tonight by Evangelist J. E. Gordon of Morgantown, W. Va., at the Central Christian church, corner of Long and Pennsylvania avenues, where a very successful evangelistic campaign is now being held. After observing Monday night as rest night both the evangelist and pastor, the Rev. Jesse B. Porter are ready for a great week of service. Special music has been arranged for every night and a fine song service under the leadership of Dave Lewis and his large chorus choir. Mr. Porter, the pastor will conduct an impressive devotional service preceding each sermon.

A growing interest in both attendance and spiritual concern has been demonstrated each night of the campaign and both the pastor and evangelist are expecting a wonderful week for the Kingdom. These wide awake evangelists declare that "A great religious wave is in the making and urges all who are interested in Christianity to get ready to do their bit. The service starts each night at 7:30."

Maj. Gen. Butler Stirs Philadelphia

May Be Candidate For United States Senate From Pennsylvania

(International News Service) PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 27.—The name of Maj. Gen. Smedley D. Butler, fiery marine commander and one-time vice-crusading police director of Philadelphia, stirred Philadelphians again today.

The alleged remarks concerning Premier Benito Mussolini of Italy, expressed by the marine commander during the course of an address before the Contemporary club here a few days ago, are under investigation by the state department. The navy department also will probably look into the remarks. They have been construed as being complimentary to the Italian premier. Many prominent citizens are expected to come to his defense.

Political circles, however, were more deeply stirred by reports the erstwhile safety director may be a candidate for the U. S. senate two years hence with the support of the Pinchot-Giraudy alliance. General Butler since his dismissal has become a martyr in the eyes of many Philadelphians and his visits here are occasions for noisy demonstrations. On November 11 last during the Armistice day anniversary celebrations here Gen. Butler "stole the show." His parade through the city streets at the head of his marine band, filled with thousands of his followers and admirers out and the resultant demonstration was one of the greatest spectacles recorded in the city's history.

Gospel Tabernacle Crowded Monday At Convention Session

Missionaries Tell Stories Of Their Work In Most Interesting Manner

Interesting in the annual missionary convention of the Christian and Missionary Alliance churches of this district being held in the Gospel Tabernacle, 210 Pearson St. is on the increase as a result of the most interesting manner in which these missionaries delegated to the convention are telling the stories of their work in faraway lands. Last night every available space in the tabernacle was filled with deeply interested men, women and children. Rev. G. W. Strohman showed pictures of the work done in the Philippine Islands, in which he had a part.

Rev. H. D. Stoddard delivered a strong message on "Daniel in the Lions Den." This evening, Miss Eva King of India and Rev. G. W. Strohman of the Philippine Islands will speak on their work in those lands. Rev. H. D. Stoddard will also preach again this evening.

The convention is one of the best ever held and Rev. E. C. Anderson, pastor of the tabernacle is making every possible effort to make it a success. The meetings are open to all.

The Parent Problem

by GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

Cleverness Will Renew Man's Family Interest

By GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D.
Head Division Parental Education,
Cleveland College, Western Reserve University.

"Dear Dr. Myers: I am wondering whether it would be asking too much of you if at some time, maybe soon, you would write an article on how much time a husband should give his wife."

"We live on a ranch, and naturally that means longer hours than eight-hour office work, but it is for some one else who expects 10 hours' work from my husband six days a week only. Sundays are his. 'With me: I am mother of four husky, well, normal children, who demand most of my time. I am housekeeper; I am cook, laundress, dressmaker and tailor, dry cleaner, boot-black and barber, for in the 14 years of married life my husband nor children have ever sat in a barber's chair."

"I have never had a day's help in the house, never had even a nurse or help when the babies had their illnesses. Never had a ready-made garment save hats shoes and hose. Never buy flowers or magazines. Never to a dance in my life. Won't go to church alone, have no social life of any kind. See no one, no one ever calls."

"Now, please don't think I am complaining about what I do, for I am ever so thankful we are all well and I am able to do it; but—I get the children to bed early and leave my evening dishes, asking for nothing in life but an hour of an evening with my husband—but he never has time. Sunday is no different from Monday, Wednesday or Saturday. Days go by when the children never see him. He's up so early before they arise, and they lunch at school and nap during noon hour, and are to bed when he comes in for supper. I see him about 10 minutes at breakfast, 10 minutes at lunch, and about 15 or 20 minutes at supper, day in and day out."

"I am so lonesome, unhappy (in a way) and discontented. What is the solution? Will you please look for an answer in the Mercury, and hope for help of some kind."

Answer: I do not know when any letter has touched me so much as yours.

You have earned a special seat in heaven. You are a good theme for poets to write about. But in spite of your loneliness you have satisfactions which few other mothers have. I need not tell you what you deserve in time, consideration and affection from your husband. Ours is a very practical problem. No use to scold your husband for neglect. The hope lies in leading him to enjoy more time with you.

Why not ask him to read to you from the paper, say, while you are busy at work? You might get him to read this column to you each day, not with the suggestion that he needs it but to help you. He might get a few helps himself without knowing it.

Get the children to make some little surprise for him some Sunday. Work with them to make him feel more important to the family. Maybe they could persuade him to take you all out some place on a Sunday to cook a camp dinner. When he does sit down and talk to you or show you some affection express deep enjoyment for his consideration. Your problem is to lead him by your cleverness to do more kind things for you and the children, and then to express strong appreciation to him for the joys he gave you. It is not a matter of what a husband ought to do, but what the wife can make him want to do.

Football Player Undergoes Serious Operation Today

George McIntosh, Jr., Operated On Today At Youngstown Hospital

George McIntosh Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. George McIntosh of Garfield avenue, and well known member of the New Castle High School football team, who has been ill for some time, was this morning removed to the North Side Unit of the Youngstown City Hospital, where he this afternoon underwent an operation for a double mastoid. He is a junior in the high school and his many friends of the student body as well as in the city in general hope for his speedy recovery from this very serious operation.

BUS OPERATORS SAFETY BANQUET

Twenty Six Operate Busses During 1930 Without Accident

Another celebration of notable safety achievement will be celebrated this evening by operators and officials of the Penn-Ohio Coach Lines in the community hall at Parkman, Ohio. The dinner meeting will be in celebration of the finest record for accident prevention ever made by the coach lines since their inauguration.

The dinner will be attended by the operators of the lines together with their wives and officials of the company. The dinner will be especially in honor of twenty-six operators none of whom was charged with an accident in the last half of 1930.

In 1930 the number of chargeable accidents, those over which the operators had even the slightest degree of control, was reduced from eighteen to five, an improvement of 72.2 per cent. Over the period of the last five years the reduction in such accident was 96.9 per cent, from 163 in 1926 to 5 in 1930.

The high spot of safety achievement was on the Youngstown-Cleveland line. Here, despite the fact that the coaches travel daily over roads among the most used of Ohio, not a single accident involving coaches has occurred within the last fifteen months. In this time the coaches have traveled 763,512 miles and have carried 271,000 passengers.

In 1930 the coaches on all the coach lines, those operating between Akron and Youngstown, Cleveland and Youngstown, Youngstown and New Castle, New Castle and Sharon, Youngstown and Sharon and Youngstown and Greenville, have traveled a total of 1,330,998 miles, an average of 266,199 for each of the five accidents, none of which was serious, charged against the coach operation.

The twenty-six operators who will be honored by this evening's dinner meeting for their safe operation are: Joseph Billings, Arthur Booth, K. B. Burton, Geo. Cochran, C. F. Cunningham, R. F. Downey, L. R. Elliott, Hugo Poesler, H. B. Gardner, George Glessford, J. K. Graham, Maxwell Hunter, B. F. James, G. A. Little, B. L. Little, Harold Longstreet, Alvin Miller, R. H. Oliphant, Carl Payne, O. S. Pike, Henry Robb, G. T. Sisler, W. E. Smith, Harold Walters, Ernest Wilde, Charles Wilson.

Special honor will be paid to Alvin Miller with the presentation to him of a gold watch for the operation of his coach for five years without responsibility for a single accident. Five other coach operators received a similar tribute to their safe operation a year ago. They were: Joseph Billings, B. P. James, Maxwell Hunter, G. T. Sisler and Charles Wilson. The presentation of the watch to Mr. Miller will be the eighty-ninth such presentation made to Penn-Ohio System operators in the last two years.

TWO INJURED BY AN ENRAGED BULL

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Jan. 27.—Two men, Alex Froehlich, 60, and William Lorditch, 45, were injured today when an infuriated bull escaped from a local slaughter house and was not captured until it was shot two hours later, more than three miles away. Froehlich and Lorditch were both attacked by the bull and painfully injured.

ACHING KIDNEYS MADE STRONG OR MONEY REFUNDED

If kidneys and bladder have become weak, irritated—causing frequent night rising, painful urination, and back-breaking aches, look out for trouble.

For prompt, effective relief ask your druggist for a box of Wildunger Tee, containing valuable kidney activating salts from the famous Wildunger Bad in Germany. This mild European medicine helps more than a ton of harsh drugs, say many physicians who prescribe it. In fact so sure are the importers of this amazing preparation that you'll be overjoyed at the relief it brings that they have instructed druggists to refund every penny unless you're delighted.

Even high blood pressure, rheumatic aches, pains, stiffness and swelling, and acid indigestion quickly respond to Wildunger Tee. Get a box today. Use it faithfully. If you're not absolutely convinced that you are getting well after taking only one box, your money back.

You can get Wildunger Tee at New Castle Drug Co., 31 East Washington St., and 44 North Mill St.

ADD HEALTH TO HOT BREADS

Hot breads are tempting. But often they lack roughage. The absence of bulk from foods often results in constipation.

But now you can have hot breads with roughage. Simply add a cupful of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN to the recipe. This delicious cereal furnishes the bulk needed to assure proper elimination. You will find many appetizing recipes on the red-and-green ALL-BRAN package.

Equally tempting as a ready-to-eat cereal with milk or cream. Two tablespoons daily are guaranteed to prevent and relieve both temporary and recurring constipation. In severe cases, use with each meal.

ALL-BRAN also furnishes needed iron for the body. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Attorneys For Woman Seeking Moore Estate Are Preparing Data

Mrs. Dorothy Russell O'Reilly Calvit, Daughter Of Lillian Russell Seeks Fortune

Believes That She Is Entitled To $575,000 Left By Late Ambassador Moore

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Jan. 27.—Featured by the testimony of two nurses who quoted the late Alexander P. Moore, former Ambassador, as promising his wife, Lillian Russell, that he would provide for her only child, Mrs. Dorothy Russell O'Reilly Calvit, the latter and her attorneys today prepared to carry the story further when the trial resumes February 4.

Mrs. Calvit has begun suit for $575,000, representing half the Moore estate, which her attorneys claim is due her by the terms of a pre-nuptial agreement made by the late statesman with his stage-star wife.

Star Witness Is Ill
The opening sally of testimony was broken off abruptly when a telegram was received by Judge Trimble from a New York physician certifying that Mrs. Calvit's chief witness, Miss Bessie Clayton, a former stage celebrity, was ill and unable to attend the session.

Mrs. Marie Combe, of Pittsburgh, a nurse, testified that she attended the former ambassador's wife during an illness in 1917. "I heard Lillian Russell tell Mr. Moore that she was worried about Dorothy," the witness said. "Moore told his wife, 'Don't worry, I'll take care of Dorothy.'" Mrs. Combe quoted the former publisher as replying to his wife.

Mrs. Emma Newhouse, of Pittsburgh, the second and final witness to testify, reiterated late testimony contained, she said, in a promise made by the ambassador in 1920.

Miss Clayton, who is expected to testify when the trial resumes, was a bridesmaid at the Moore-Russell wedding in 1912. The former ambassador, in his will filed last year at his death, bequeathed $100,000 to the Queen of Spain for charitable purposes, and $25,000 to Mrs. Dorothy Caruso. He left Mrs. Calvit $1,000.

Moore's estate at the time of his death was estimated at $1,000,000. A subsequent accounting by the trustees placed the value at $575,000, the loss being attributed to a shrinkage in the value of securities.

Negroes Jailed On Charge Of Selling Liquor To Students

Two Negroes In Uniontown Jailed For Selling Of Liquor To High School Students

(International News Service) UNIONTOWN, Pa., Jan. 27.—Charles Perkins, 36, and Paul Carter, 42, negroes, were arrested and jailed here today on charges of selling liquor to school children here at twenty-five cents a drink, police reported.

Several child patrons of the two men were said to have identified the two suspects as sellers of the alleged liquor, police said.

Police launched an investigation to determine identity of the sellers of the alleged liquor when several youths were reported to have attended classes in high school here in an intoxicated condition.

A quantity of the alleged liquor was found in the Carter home, where pupils have admitted purchasing the drinks at twenty-five cents each, police said.

Youngstown Lads Returned To Home

Two Youngsters, Who Set Out To See World, Fail To Get Far In Journeys

Two Youngstown boys, who tired of homelife and school set out yesterday morning to see the world out landed up in the New Castle police station, after spending the night in New Wilmington.

The lads, John and Harold Deniro, aged 11 and 14 years, respectively, left home 1623 Himrod avenue yesterday afternoon, when the one had received a reprimand because he failed to be promoted at school.

They arrived in New Wilmington last evening and were taken there by the New Castle police station this morning, where questioning brought out the fact that their home was in Youngstown.

The father was communicated with and came here late this morning, taking the boys back with him.

Trinity Parish Holds Annual Meeting Monday

Interesting Reports Are Made To The Members By Rector And Officers

Annual meeting of Trinity Episcopal parish held last night in the guildroom was largely attended and great interest was manifested in the proceedings.

The rector, Rev. Philip C. Pearson, presided and F. E. Sowersby was the clerk of the meeting. One of the first items of business transacted was the election of three vestrymen for a period of three years. Those selected were all re-elected and are Thomas W. Dickey, C. E. Lyle and H. K. Bell.

Annual report of the rector was made early in the meeting and showed that progress had been made by the parish during the past year in many ways. During the meeting the rector also called attention to two matters of importance that had been inaugurated, one being the starting of an endowment fund by the gift of the late Mrs. Summa Locke, the other being that of the broadening of the scope of the work of the Women's Auxiliary to take in all types of work for the parish and the community.

Report of Attorney Thomas W. Dickey, treasurer of the parish showed conditions to be good in spite of the business depression. Others making reports which proved of unusual interest and most encouraging were those of Miss Nancy Bechtol, financial secretary; H. K. Bell, treasurer of Nation Wide Campaign fund; Mrs. Florence Lyle, treasurer Woman's Auxiliary, W. C. Eckenrode, treasurer of the church school; T. G. Lewis, secretary of the church school; Mrs. E. O. Hahn, treasurer Daughters of the King; Mrs. Agnes E. Sowersby, secretary of the Daughters of the King; L. J. Lewis, president of the Men's Club; T. G. Lewis, scoutmaster of Troop No. 35 Boy Scouts of the church; and others.

The rector was authorized to appoint committees to audit the accounts of the various officials of the parish.

Following the meeting, the vestry met and organized for the coming year. The rector appointed W. T. Butz as senior warden, it being the latter's forty-fifth term as such, an honor that is seldom accorded a vestryman in any part of the country.

Other officers selected by the vestry were:—C. P. Byers, junior warden; Thomas W. Dickey, treasurer; P. E. Sowersby, secretary; Miss Nancy Bechtol, financial secretary; H. K. Bell, treasurer Nation Wide campaign.

During the business meeting of the parish, Mrs. T. F. Stryker, president of the Woman's Auxiliary, spoke most interestingly of the work that this organization plans for the future.

Legion Of Honor To Meet Wednesday

A committee will be appointed at this time to arrange a program for the next Consistory Dinner Dance, which is in their charge.

SIGNIFICANCE HERE TO PULASKI STAMP; TOWN BEARS NAME

The postoffice here today placed on sale another two-cent commemorative stamp, but the stamp this time carries a local significance. It is the special issue honoring General Casimir Pulaski, the Polish patriot and hero of the American Revolution for whom the town of Pulaski was named.

Ten thousand stamps are in the supply received by the local office this morning. Stamp collectors should secure their number at once.

The special Pulaski issue resembles the regular two-cent issue with the exception of the facial design, which bears the general's portrait.

Report Freighter Goes Aground, Rush Coast Guard Cutter

Seattle Freighter Carrying 35 And Crew Is Reported In Distress

(International News Service)

SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 27.—In answer to an S. O. S. call the coast guard cutter Snohomish today was rushing to the assistance of the freighter Admiral Nulton which is aground on Protills spit on the Columbia river bar.

Aboard the grounded freighter are 35 men and her crew commanded by Captain Peter Sator of Seattle. No previous word of the Admiral Nulton's predicament was received until the S. O. S. call was intercepted last night by the Seattle harbor radio.

Murky, unsettled weather with fitful rain squalls added danger to the freighter's position.

The boat sailed from Seattle Tuesday enroute to San Francisco via British Columbia ports and Portland, Ore.

Human Brains Differ Medical Expert Says

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
The study of the brains of two highly gifted musicians has been recently reported: one a young violinist killed in an automobile accident, the other a prominent opera singer. The extraordinary development (in number and complexity of cells) occurred in the superior left temporal gyrus of the brain and the lower part of the left parietal lobe.

This, perhaps, does not mean very much until you realize that these are the speech areas—the places in the brain where speech is composed and understood. Not only the center for the understanding of spoken words, but also the center for the creation of spoken sentences or words, and the center for understanding written words, are close to these musical centers.

Both the understanding and the creation of music with the voice, then, is a form of speech. In the process of evolutionary development, singing and shouting and wailing undoubtedly preceded consecutive word formation, but all rose from the same centers in the nervous system. The anatomist who examined these musical brains thinks the extraordinary development is hereditary and not due to training. Improved by training, of course, but determined by heredity.

If you are a musical genius, you are born that way, and nothing can keep you from being a great musician, but if you have not these fibers and cells in the right place, no amount of instruction can turn you into a chapelmeister. Every human brain differs from every other one, says the anatomist. The difference between average men may be slight, but prodigies and geniuses differ from the normal.

If you have a little genius in your home, God pity you, but treat it gently nevertheless.

The production of musical notes by the vocal cords is a very complicated process. The actual motor center for the vocal cords in the brain is closely connected with the center for hearing. The two centers develop in the embryo simultaneously. The hearing center determines the trueness of the note produced by the vocal cords, and modifies their length so as to make it more absolutely true. The sinuses of the nose make the quality of the note. The great singers have enormous air chambers in the nose.

Editor's Note: Four pamphlets and three articles by Dr. Clendening can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin for each pamphlet and 2 cents in coin for each article, with a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of this paper, or Central Press Association, 1435 East Twelfth street, Cleveland, O. The pamphlets are: "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," and "Feminine Hygiene." The articles are: "Normal Diet," "Diet of the Expectant Mother" and "Tuberculosis."

Penn State Offers Technology Work

Fuel Technology Will Be Among Major Options At State

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Jan. 27.—Fuel technology will be among the new major options offered at the Pennsylvania State College next fall by the School of Mineral Industries. Dean Edward Steidle announced today. Instruction will be given under the supervision of Dr. D. F. McFarland, head of the department of metallurgy.

"Pennsylvania has been the leading fuel producing State for a hundred years," Dr. McFarland said, "but in this century the better grades of coal have been exhausted gradually. The State still has huge deposits of coal, but to obtain the greatest efficiency from its use it is necessary to use greater care in preparing and processing. Many low grade coals may be made into valuable fuels by the proper handling, and it is this field of utilization which the new course of fuel technology will explore."

President Puts Self Firmly On Dry Side For 1932 Campaign

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—There may be two opinions concerning the meaning of the Wickersham commission's prohibition report. Wets interpret it their way and dries interpret it theirs.

But there appears to be no doubt about the position President Hoover committed himself to in his message transmitting the report to congress.

What he favors is prohibition as it is.

It was a declaration which settled the political situation in certain of its aspects as a pinch of salt precipitates sediment in a glassful of roily water.

Mr. Hoover generally has been classified as a dry, to be sure. Still, even though the dries claimed him, G. O. P. wets always have reminded them that he never had said anything irrevocably aligning himself among the Eighteenth amendment's bitter enders. Indeed, the wets inclined to the noble experiment in that his recognition of it as an experiment left the opportunity open to him, so they argued, to say any time that it had had a fair trial and was a failure.

Less than 24 hours in advance of the Wickersham report's delivery from the White House to the lawmakers on Capitol Hill a Republican politician whose hunches have the trick of verifying themselves with remarkable frequency forecast to me that it would prove to be just predominantly wet enough to enable the president to give it his indorsement without any overly violent modification of his earlier utterances and then to get gradually if not ostentatiously upon the wet side of the line. At least, to get away from the definitely dry stand heretofore attributed to him. I believe my informant really had seen the report. His prophecy relative to it was circumstantially too accurate to have been mere surmise. He certainly erred as to Mr. Hoover, however. Maybe it was a 100 per cent mistake on his part. Or maybe the president did not make up his mind until the last minute, and then made it up differently from the way my acquaintance though he would. I don't know yet.

At any rate, the verdict among Washington prognosticators now is that the presidential message—the Wickersham report having nothing to do with the matter except as having furnished the text for the message—definitely means Mr. Hoover's renomination in 1932 as a dry and with prohibition as the supreme issue. This, of course, assumes that the Democrats take the other side of it, which this latest development virtually will force them to do.

It was beginning to look as if power might overshadow all else, but that was before prohibition became so clean cut as Mr. Hoover in a few words suddenly has made it. In fact, public men opposed to the so-called power trust insist that the move is a deliberate one to smother the economic question. Be that as it may, it is widely agreed that anything else will have hard work to compete with prohibition if the latter is stressed instead of being pool-poohed, as many politicians have tried to do hitherto, only religion being mentioned as having greater possibilities of popular appeal.

By virtue of his declaration for unqualified repeal of the Eighteenth amendment, Newton D. Baker's Democratic presidential chances are spoken of as having received a distinct fillip. His home state of Ohio voted both wetly and Democratically in the last election.

While naturally it is too soon for a considered estimate, the gossip is interesting as the first reaction from the long-awaited report of the crime commission.

Nature Demands Body
Get Eight Hours Of Sleep

"A middle aged" gentleman of prominence in the affairs of the world recently boasted concerning his ability to work at a sustained high pressure. In his own words he was "a bear for work." And indeed his achievements in business gave no room for argument on that score. He had amassed millions, was the head of one of the largest manufacturing plants of its kind in the country, and was referred to by his employees as "a human dynamo." All of which was very flattering to his vanity. But he is dead today nevertheless, a victim of the body drive it at a speed which ends in a smash.

"Again, there are literally hundreds of thousands of persons who place enervating habits and excesses as directing heads, and turn a deaf ear to the basic bodily requirements. Their rule is 'Do what I like to do and not what the body demands.' Suffering illness or death are the inevitable results in these instances also.

"What all these people somehow fail to realize is that nature, rather than will-power (or the lack of it), has always been and always will be in absolute control. The laws of nature were formulated without any advice and cooperation on the part of man. This being so, it is nothing short of sheer foolishness for anyone to attempt consistently to buck them.

"It follows that no matter how intelligent a person may be, nor how much he desires to follow his own conceptions of life, business and pleasure, the body and not the brain always and inevitably has the last word. The sooner one realizes this basic principle and guides himself accordingly, the sooner he will improve his chances for longer, healthier and happier life.

"Nature is exacting but decidedly is not unreasonable. She demands that the body gets on the average eight hours sleep each night, that it be exercised daily, that it receives sufficient but not too much food to buck them.

New Cabinet In France Selected

Senator Pierre Laval, Completes New French Cabinet Today

RUSHES WORK ON GIGANTIC PROGRAM

(International News Service) PARIS, Jan. 27.—Adhering closely to the ministerial lineup of the last Andre Tardieu government, which preceded the Theodore Steeg coalition that crashed Thursday, Senator Pierre Laval successfully ended 48 hours of negotiations today by forming a cabinet.

The complete list of ministers as selected by Laval follows:

Premier and minister of the interior—Pierre Laval.

Justice—Leon Berard.

Foreign affairs—Aristide Briand.

War—Andre Maginot.

Marine—Charles Dumont.

Air—Jacques Louis Dumesnil.

Public instruction—Mario Roustan.

Finance—Pierre Etienne Flandin.

Budget—Francis Pietri.

Public works—Maurice Deligne.

Labor—Adolphe Landry.

Commerce—Louis Rollin.

Agriculture—Andre Tardieu.

Merchant marine—Louis de Chappedlain.

Pensions—August Champetier de Ribes.

Post and telegraphs—Charles Guernier.

Colonies—Paul Reynaud.

Public health—M. Blaisot.

Eleven undersecretaries of state also were named. Prior to the cabinet's formation Laval announced that he hoped to be in a position to lay his program before the chamber of deputies Thursday when his government will meet its first test.

Farrell Woman Is Arrested For Abandoning Children—Husband Makes Complaint

(International News Service) FARRELL, Pa., Jan. 27.—Developments followed rapidly on the recent offer by George Koukis, shoemaker, to give away his three children after he claimed his wife had left him and today the wife was held under $3,000 bond on a charge of abandoning the children Koukis preferred the charge.

Wide publicity was given to Koukis' offer, based on his assertion that he was unable to support his youngsters. Yesterday, Mrs. Koukis evinced a desire to return to her home but Koukis had her arrested. The children ranging in age from three to seven years, are being cared for by Koukis' sister.

(International News Service) ZURICH, Switzerland, Jan. 27.—Italian Consul General Bianchi was shot and seriously wounded here today by a young Italian who gave his name as Lino Bassi.

Bianchi was shot three times with a revolver, but he may live.

Bassi is alleged to have shot the diplomat when his demands for money were refused.

Strange Ideas Of Chivalry Existed

"When you tread on a lady's train in the street, you are not required to apologize," observed the Providence, R. I., Journal on July 18, 1867.

"You have a right to be in the street. So has the lady; but she has no more right to carry her train with the expectation of having it respected than she has to bring her cradle to Market Square and rock her baby in it. You have a right to stay on the sidewalk, and if any foolish woman chooses to lay five yards of satin between your feet and the flags, it is her risk, not yours."

Children's Colds Doubly Dangerous With Flu Around

While there is no cause for serious alarm over the development of scattered cases of flu in this locality, health authorities say that extra precautions should be taken to check every cold at the start. Unless treated promptly, colds tend to lower body resistance and may pave the way for an attack of influenza with all its serious complications.

Internal medication should be avoided except on the advice of a physician. Too much "dosing" often disturbs the digestion and lowers the vitality just when the child needs its body-strength most.

Applied externally, Vicks VapoRub can be used freely and as often as needed with no fear of upsetting the stomach.

Rubbed on throat and chest, Vicks acts thru the skin like a poultice or plaster, drawing out the tightness and soreness. At the same time, its medicated vapors, released by the warmth of the body, are inhaled direct to the irritated air-passages, loosening the phlegm, and soothing the irritation.

Of course, Vicks two-way action is just as effective for adults' cold- troubles, too.

Don't take chances with colds NOW!

State Chamber Of Commerce Planning Annual Gathering

Unemployment And Public Utilities Will Be Topics Of Discussion In Harrisburg

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Jan. 27.—Unemployment and public utilities will be the outstanding topics for discussion when the State Chamber of Commerce opens its twelfth annual meeting here tomorrow.

Headlining the list of speakers who will address visiting members of the state organization are Governor Gifford Pinchot and Senator George H. Moses (R) of New Hampshire. The Governor, it is anticipated, will discuss the work done by his unemployment committee and his views on the public utility situation while Senator Moses will speak on the unemployment conditions of the country.

Employment problems will also be discussed by Morris Leeds, Philadelphia, while Ingalls Kimball, New York, will speak on old age pensions and H. J. Tilley, Philadelphia will talk on the state mercantile license tax.

Frank C. Hunter, Chester, former counsel for the Public Service Commission, will discuss public utility issues.

Motion Picture Star Operated Upon For Acute Appendicitis In Chicago

CHICAGO, Jan. 27.—Dr. Arnold H. Kegel, Health Commissioner, today performed an emergency operation on Grant Withers, motion picture star, for acute appendicitis.

Withers was hurried to Passavant hospital at midnight after he collapsed backstage at a downtown theater where he had been making personal appearances. An examination disclosed the fact that he was suffering from acute appendicitis.

An immediate operation was agreed upon and Withers went on the operating table at 4:30 a. m.

The operation was not started until the talking picture star called his wife, Loretta Young, at Hollywood. She promised she would hurry to Chicago.

Dr. Kegel said the operation was a success and that Withers is showing signs of returning strength.

The meeting was conducted by Mrs. Mary Kennedy, and matters of interest and importance to the members were discussed. A delicious lunch was served by the members of the social committee.

CARRIERS BACK

Frank E. Williams and W. F. Reed, carriers for the Mahoningtown postoffice, are back at their duties, after an absence of several days duration, due to illness.

SYSTEM SATISFACTORY

According to Ticket Agent J. H. Hosler, of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, the new system of distribution of pay drafts to employees proved most satisfactory. Monday, Monday was the first day of the new schedule of receiving pay drafts at the New Castle junction instead of at the ticket office on Liberty street.

VISITING HERE

Miss Virginia Stenger, of Warren, Ohio, is visiting with friends and relatives in seventh ward.

SLIGHTLY IMPROVED

A. E. Ferguson, well known passenger freightman, of East Clayton street, who has been ill for a week or so, is slightly improved at the home of his brother in Pulaski.

Notice

All paper bills must be paid by Feb. 1st or paper will be stopped. THOMAS W. SOLOMON, Jr. Adv 2t

FROM PAINESVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ferguson, of Painesville, Ohio, are spending a few days with friends in seventh ward.

DIVISION AGENT

H. S. Alexander, of Youngstown, Ohio, Baltimore and Ohio railroad division freight agent, spent Monday in the seventh ward vicinity.

IN FLORIDA

Mrs. Gladys Conner, Johnston branch librarian of the New Castle

free public library who has been at Mahoningtown branch library every Thursday, and who was recently married, is spending several weeks with her husband in Florida.

In three weeks Mrs. Johnston will be back at her duties here. In the meantime, Miss Alice Morrison will be at the Mahoningtown library on Thursdays, as well as Mondays.

CONDITION POOR

Little improvement is reported in the condition of J. W. Fowler of Cedar street, who is undergoing treatment in the Jameson Memorial hospital.

MOVES HERE

William Vogan, well known passenger brakeman, of Willard, Ohio, has moved to seventh ward and will make his residence on Seventh street.

ATTENDANCE FLAG

Teachers of the Mahoning school have a pretty satisfactory answer to the age old problem of inducing the school students to attend their classes regularly.

The answer isn't a hickory stick but a red attendance banner. The banner is awarded to the classroom that each month has had the least absent and tardy pupils. It is hung to the door of the report room and needless to say the children are quite proud when their class wins the banner.

SEVENTH WARD PERSONALS

N. E. Moore, of Ellwood City spent Monday in town.

R. F. Henry, of Akron, Ohio, spent Monday in seventh ward.

J. E. Weisenbaugh, of Akron, O., was in seventh ward on Monday.

Silas Stickle, of East Cherry street, is confined to his home by illness.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Clark of Whalen, Ohio, were Monday callers in this ward.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Johnson, of Ellwood City, spent Monday with friends in this ward.

John M. Conn, J. D. Davis and Dr. C. W. Davis, of North Cedar street, spent Saturday in Salem, O., on business.

Man Injured In Flight Of Bus

Driverless Bus Crashes Over Embankment Near Irwin, Pa., Several Children Hurt

(International News Service) IRWIN, Pa., Jan. 27.—One man was confined to the Greensburg hospital today and several other passengers, including a number of small children, were recovering from slight injuries received when a driverless auto bus careened over an embankment here last night.

J. F. Sullivan of Chicago, a passenger who attempted to halt the wild dash of the bus, received a fractured collar bone and was removed to the hospital after being given first aid treatment by a local physician.

The driver of the bus, Edward W. Wills of Cleveland, had stopped in at a nearby grocery when the accident occurred, police said. The brakes in some manner became loosened and the heavy bus crashed over the embankment, smashing into a pole and damaging several sidewalks. Police Chief Robert Shumaker reported.

Believe Man Met Death In Blaze At Pittsburgh

Firemen Fail To Confirm Death Of Man In $50,000 Warehouse Fire

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Jan. 27.—Reports that a man lost his life in a $50,000 fire that destroyed the four-story brick warehouse of the R. J. Omsler Wrecking Company last night were still unconfirmed by firemen today.

The blaze was extinguished after four hours of steady firefighting, calling into play 20 streams of hose, finally controlled the flaming mass of old lumber and other inflammable parts of wrecked houses.

The plant of the P. McGraw Wood Company, adjoining the burning building, suffered damage from the flames, and two or three days are expected to elapse before machinery affected by water can be restored to service.

Machines don't make jobs scarce. It didn't take a dozen men to keep old Dobin filled, repaired and polished.

Absolve Driver In Shugar Death

Coroner's Jury Finds Little Evidence Of Negligence
On Part Of Pascarella

TELLS CLEARCUT
STORY AT INQUEST

Frank Pascarella, 921 North Liberty street, driver of the machine which struck Paul Shugar, on the evening of January 21, was absolved of blame by a coroner's jury, at a hearing held before Coroner James P. Caldwell in the mayor's office last evening.

Pascarella, his brother, Louis, and two eyewitnesses to the accident told practically the same story, and it was shown that the driver made an effort to stop his car and avoid an accident, although he had failed to blow his horn.

The jury held that insufficient evidence was produced to warrant holding Pascarella for grand jury action.

Frank Pascarella, the driver of the car was the first witness called. He stated that he was driving west on Long avenue about 7:30, on the evening of January 21. When almost at the intersection of South Jefferson street, he said that he saw a man on the crossing, about halfway across the street. He was approximately 12 feet away when he first noticed the man, and he jammed on his brakes and tried to turn the car away to avoid hitting him.

The front fender struck the man, however, he said, hurling him into the air, and the man struck on his head on the street car track. He stated that the car stopped opposite the man, and finding him seriously injured, they picked him up and took him to the New Castle hospital, where he was pronounced dead on their arrival.

Louis Pascarella, brother of the driver, who was riding in the machine with him told identically the same story. He said that they were driving close to the curb on the right hand side of the street, and apparently Shugar failed to see them, as he kept right on coming across the street crossing, until he was struck.

Louis Genst, of 32 West Terrace avenue, stated that he was walking along Long avenue near the corner of South Jefferson street, when he heard the screeching of brakes and looked up just in time to see Shugar hurled into the air. He said that Pascarella stopping his car along side the body. He stated that Shugar seemed to come down on the top of his head.

John Gemrick, who was standing across Jefferson street on the north side of Long avenue, stated that he saw Shugar just before he was struck, the fender of the car apparently striking him about the legs and knocking him a somersault and lighting on his head. He stated that Pascarella attempted to swerve the car away from Shugar, and when the machine was stopped, the front wheels were facing the curb. Shugar was crumpled up alongside the car.

Detective C. G. Logan was called and testified to having been called to the New Castle hospital in company with Officer Robert Dukes. When they arrived at the hospital, they found Paul Shugar was dead, and Pascarella, his brother, and two witnesses were there. They told him the story of the accident, which was practically identical with that told by Frank Pascarella on the witness stand. He stated that he examined Pascarella's driving license and owner's card, and found him qualified as a driver. He said that Pascarella had made every effort to stop and render assistance and had brought the injured man to the hospital.

Officer Dukes told the same story as Detective Logan.

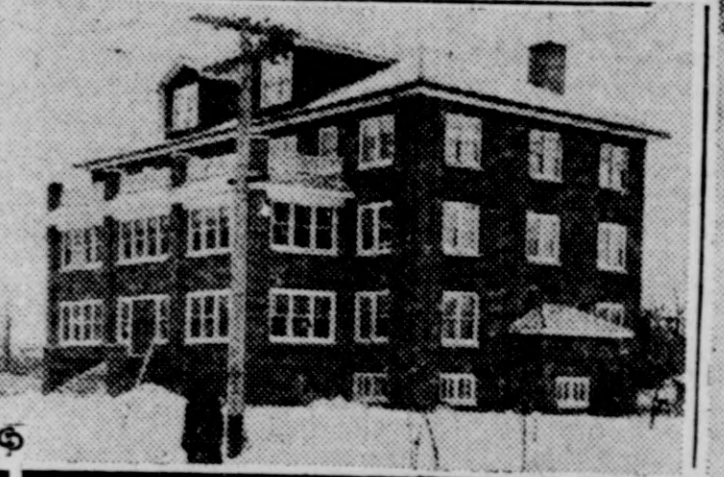

John Bigler, assistant to D. M. Ritchey, undertaker, stated that he had examined Paul Shugar after he was removed to the undertaking rooms from the hospital, and found a wound on his head above the left ear which looked like the man's skull had been fractured.

Professor Hanko, scientist, predicted a great earthquake for this week. Well, the Wickersham report was filed—The Savannah Morning News.

House Of David Factions War Over Supposed Buried Wealth; "Queen" Keeps Constant Vigil

Mrs. Ada Ross Schneider with Attorney George H. Bookwalter, former Berrien county prosecutor, preparing her divorce action against her husband, John Schneider, described as Judge Dewhirst's man Friday.

Headquarters of New Israel, cult established by Mary Purnell after break with Dewhirst.

The vault at the diamond house on House of David property where huge fortune is believed to be buried.

By Central Press
BENTON HARBOR, Mich., Jan. 27.—Open warfare again exists between the factions in Michigan's strange religious cult, the House of David. With "Queen" Mary Purnell, widow of the late "King" Ben Purnell, founder, on the one side, and Judge Harry T. Dewhirst on the other, and supposed buried treasure of nearly $1,000,000 is at stake.

Reading like the tales of Captain Kidd, the secret of the treasure which, besides money, is said to include thousands of dollars worth of jewels and precious stones, came to light recently when Mrs. Ada Ross Schneider, former confidante of Purnell, left the colony. Prior to departing, Mrs. Schneider demanded a portion of the fortune, which she said she knew had accumulated during the 25 years she was a member.

The Two Factions
Since King Ben passed away several years ago, rival factions have torn the once closely united group apart. A property division has been made. Judge Dewhirst, who heads the House of David, once was legal adviser to King Ben. Queen Mary organized a colony of her own, within a stone's throw of the House of David. She calls her sect the New

Israel and has built a home which rivals in size and cost the famous "diamond house" of the older colony where King Ben's body still lies in state "until the day when he shall arise from the dead and lead his followers into the promised land." His mummified body rests on a specially constructed bier in the second story of the "palace."

The Dewhirst group secured the amusement park, 200, baseball diamond and all of the old buildings, and have made the place into an attractive spot for tourists and curiosity seekers, who are eager to see the activities of the bearded followers.

The present controversy arose when Mrs. Schneider, secretary and auditor of the original colony for 25 years, demanded compensation alleged due her, and asserted there Schneider's demand for compensation was refused, she prepared to begin an accounting suit. Dewhirst at the same time began proceedings to compel her to disclose the location of the hidden gold. Twenty-four hours later it was announced a settlement understood to be $33,000, was reached out of court.

Queen Mary and her faction immediately declared the settlement was made to keep the hiding place of the fortune secret from her faction. She asserted half of it, if found would be hers, under terms of last year's division of property.

With the most stalwart of her followers Mary is keeping a day and night watch of the actions of all who enter and leave the diamond house. Just where the supposed money is hid is a matter of speculation although a small stone vault near the diamond house is believed to hold it. In her description of it Mrs. Schneider told of filling a bushel basket with gold pieces ranging from $5 to $50, and of trays of precious gems, besides some $600,000 in gold certificates of $1,000, bound with rubber bands.

Appeals to Governor
Mary, in desperation, appealed to Governor Wilbert M. Brucker at Lansing to prevent Mrs. Schneider from sailing for England, as she announced she would do Jan. 28. After turning the matter over to his attorney general, the governor said he saw no way of preventing Mrs. Schneider from going where she pleases. Mrs. Schneider began preparation of a divorce action against her husband, John Schneider, described as Judge Dewhirst's man Friday, immediately after the alleged cash settlement.

Induct Officers Of Engineers Society

Alfred Chilton Discusses River
And Pymatungum Dam
Projects

Engineer society of New Castle with 65 present, formally inducted recently elected officers last night when they convened at the Penn-Ohio lecture room. The new president is Lee Allen of the Pennsylvania Engineering works.

Other officers are:
Vice president—William Bingham
Belle Telephone company.
Treasurer—Joseph Rigby, Carnegie Steel company.
Secretary—L. M. Shields, Penn-Ohio Electric company.
The executive committee at large consists of John Crombie, A. S. & T. P. company; Roy Shira, Pittsburgh Limestone company, and W. J. McCormick, Pennsylvania railroad system.

Following induction of officers, the members listened to an interesting address by Alfred Chilton of the chamber of commerce.

He dealt with the canalization of the Mahoning, Beaver and Shenango rivers and Pymatungum dam project.

Following his address the members discussed the two subjects.

School Boy Hurt When Hit By Car

John W. Connor of 729 Butler avenue retired to police yesterday afternoon that he was driving north on Cochran way at the intersection of North street, when a boy named Eugene Gardner of Mulberry street, running along the street, ran into his car and was knocked to the street.

Mr. Connor reported that he took the boy to the New Castle hospital where his injuries, which were of a minor nature, were dressed. He then took the boy back to school.

STAMP ERRORS MADE PURPOSELY

Mistakes are often deliberately made on postage stamps in order to increase their value, says O. W. Simons, stamp editor of Boys' Life. Mr. Simons cites as an example a recent issue of Panama stamps, on a sheet of which ten mistakes were noted. Among other errors Panama was spelt Anama, Panam, Panama and Panama.

Prices for these ingenious variations, according to Mr. Simons, run up to 20, 35, 40 and a hundred dollars, while properly printed stamps go no higher than 75 cents.

Veterans' Bonus Bill Presented

Rep. Storer, Allegheny, Presents Resolution For $50,000,000 Bonus
Fund

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Jan. 27.—A resolution to allow the setting up of a $50,000,000 bonus fund for the payment of bonuses to veterans of the Spanish-American and World wars was presented in the House by Rep. Arthur Storer, Allegheny, last night.

The resolution was passed by both House and Senate at the 1929 session. If passed this year it would be voted on by the people of the state in November, 1933.

Woman Walks Into Auto On Crossing

W. R. McCoy of 1003 Maryland avenue reported to police that his car had struck a woman at the corner of Mill and Washington streets Monday afternoon.

Mr. McCoy stated that he was at the corner for the light to change at green, proceeded to turn up Mill street, when Alma Allen of 28 North Jefferson street walked into the car. He took her to a doctor to have her injuries, which were not of a serious nature, dressed.

You see, it would be wicked to license big bootleggers. The moral way is to let them alone and demand a share of their income.—The Akron Beacon Journal.

SYMPTOMS OF HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

If you have those distressing symptoms of high blood pressure:—thumping and pounding in the head, dizziness, unsteady gait, nervousness and sleeplessness, go to New Castle Drug, Eckerd's or any drug store and get a bottle of Norma, a physician's prescription, that gives relief from these symptoms so surely and so quickly, that improvement is often noticed the very first day it is used.

Norma is not laxative, is easy and pleasant to use and has a wonderful record in helping hundreds of sufferers from high blood pressure symptoms.

Grove City Opens Red Cross Drive

Organization Completed To Raise Quota In Drought Relief Campaign

GROVE CITY, Pa., Jan. 27.—The drive to obtain the local portion of the $16,000 allotted Mercer county in the Red Cross drive to relieve drought sufferers was launched here today with R. C. Gregory in charge. Sermons in all the local churches Sunday prefaced the work of the solicitors.

Gregory states there will be no house to house canvass but a general solicitation of the community will take place.

STARTS ANOTHER YEAR

I. C. Black is starting his twenty-sixth year as registrar of vital statistics of this community including Grove City and the surrounding townships.

He is the oldest in point of service in the county and Western Pennsylvania and has been the recipient of many letters of congratulation on his 25 years of service.

HEALTH IS GOOD
The health of the community for the winter season is exceptional reports health officers. An epidemic of grippé colds such as are prevalent at this time of year is reported but no serious cases or deaths.

The usual number of deaths among aged people due to the rigors of winter are even less this year say authorities.

Forty Guests In Hotel Forced To Flee Hotel, Bank Building, Flats Fire Swept

(International News Service)
WILLIAMSBURG, Pa., Jan. 27.—Fire of undetermined origin today semester at Grove City College is highly satisfactory to the president Dr. W. C. Keiser, that official expressed himself today.

A higher grade of academic work and more of it, a better spirit in the school than ever before is the way he expressed it.

Three families occupying second floor flats above the bank offices were forced to desert their homes as the flames gained headway.

Officers of the bank were flooded by fire fighters and business of the bank was temporarily suspended.

Firemen from neighboring towns responded and brought the blaze under control.

In Wake of Mexican Earthquake

Seventy-one persons were killed when an earthquake rocked Oaxaca, Mexico, recently, injured hundreds and rendered other hundreds homeless. The fallen masonry shown in the church at left trapped 51 persons, including a priest leading prayers. At right are a mother and two children whose home was crumbled by the shock and whose husband and father died in the church's collapse. So great was the damage done that several days passed before the dead had all been found.

DOES HE SEE IT OR DOES HE NOT?

Mr. Groundhog takes a little refreshment when he comes out of hole on Feb. 2 to do his annual weather forecasting. His friend, pussy, doesn't give a meow whether winter stays or departs. Consequently she is shown, above, washing her face while waiting for her illustrious companion to look wise and make the rest of us look foolish if we depend too much on his knowledge of the weather vagaries. Tradition has it, if Mr. Groundhog sees his shadow on Feb. 2, we shall have six more weeks of winter.

U. S. Guns Kill Canadian Rum Captain

The Canadian motor ship, Josephine K., captured by a Coast Guard patrol after it had been shelled in chase and its captain, William Cluett, killed. Arrow pointing to pilot house indicates spot where death-dealing one-pound shell passed through the wall. The boat had $100,000 worth of liquor on board. Coast Guard officials declared the shooting took place within the twelve-mile limit in New York waters, four and one-half miles southeast of Ambrose lightship, ten miles off the beach at Sandy Hook, after the schooner had ignored Coast Guards' six warning shots.

How Army Hawks Peck Out Foes' Eyes

swooping down on the huge "sausage." A bomb dropped by Lieut. Guy McHenry caused it to burst into flames with the result shown at right. It was the first balloon-busting exercise held at Langley Field, Va., in a long time.

14. General von Steuben—von Steuben's Manual Of Arms

WHEN BARON VON STEUBEN ASSUMED THE TASK OF TRAINING THE CONTINENTAL ARMY AT VALLEY FORGE HE FOUND MUCH CONFUSION RESULTING FROM THE LACK OF AN EFFICIENT, AUTHORIZED SYSTEM OF DRILL. —

(Copyright, 1930, by J. Carroll Mansfield)

ONE OF HIS FIRST ACTS WAS TO ESTABLISH A PRACTICAL, STANDARD "MANUAL EXERCISE," OR MANUAL OF ARMS (12 POSITIONS OF WHICH ARE SHOWN), WHICH ELIMINATED CONFUSION AND ADDED TO THE FIGHTING EFFICIENCY OF THE AMERICAN SOLDIER.

THE MANUAL OF ARMS AS DEVISED BY VON STEUBEN WAS ADAPTED TO THE LONG, MUZZLE-LOADING "FIRELOCK," OR "FLINTLOCK," MUSKET OF THAT DAY, WHICH REQUIRED MANY OPERATIONS TO LOAD. —

THE MANUAL OF ARMS USED BY THE UNITED STATES ARMY HAS CHANGED WITH THE GRADUAL IMPROVEMENT OF FIRE ARMS, BUT A NUMBER OF STEUBEN'S POSITIONS AND COMMANDS STILL SURVIVE. —

Geneva Defeats Westminster In Fast Game 24-21

Fair and Montgomery Star For Geneva As Westminster Drops First Engagement

"BUD" BROWNLEE IS BIG SCORER

Westminster's tall Titan band of basketball players were halted last night by Geneva College, at New Brighton. The score was 24 to 21. The game was played in the Daves Memorial gym. It was a last minute rally by the Loefflerman that gave them the victory. Fair and Montgomery caged the baskets that put the valley school in the van.

It was the first defeat for Westminster in collegiate ranks. The Titans put up a whole of a game but the odds were against them. The work of Harry "Bud" Brownlee was the big shining light for the Harrison coached machine. The giant center having five baskets and two fouls for twelve of his team's points. Kocerhan and Rice each had a field goal. The other points were made at the foul line with the Titans dropping a combined total of seven out of ten tries, while the Covenanters dropped but two out of eleven.

Titans Lead At Half
At the end of the first half the Titans led 12 to 11, after a grand rally toward the close of the period. The first seven minutes of the game found the Geneva boys with seven points to none for the United Presbyterian. The Titans were not long getting their bearings and then they took the lead.

The lead saw-sawed back and forth several times in the second half with the Geneva boys finishing the strongest when Fair and Montgomery sunk baskets. Brownlee had two baskets and Kocerhan one for the Titans in the final half of the game. Captain Phil Rice played his usual strong defensive game at guard.

Westminster by losing last night dragged down out of the dead-end lead with Bethany for Tri-State District honors. The Elsons have yet to taste defeat.

Four Fast Games In Church League Monday Evening

First Baptists "A" And "B" Win, Also Temple Israel's And Sacred Hearts

Four fast games were played in the New Castle Church League on Monday night. The First Baptist "A" and "B" teams won, also the Temple Israel's and Sacred Hearts.

In the first game the First Baptist "A" team downed the First M. E. boys, 26 to 19, in a fine game, with T. Wallace, B. Wallace and McIvor the high scorers.

The Temple Israel team defeated the Wesley M. E. team, 19 to 17, in a hard fought game in which the outcome was in doubt until the final minute of play. The stars of the game were C. Solomon, E. Solomon, Davis, Critchlow and Morrison.

The real battle on the program came in the Sacred Hearts' game with the Third U. P. quintet, which the former team managed to win, 31 to 29, after playing two extra periods. The score was deadlocked at the end of the regular game, 27-27, and at the end of the first extra period, 29-29. The final extra period found the Hearts two points better than the Third U. P. boys. It was an exciting battle all the way. The stars of the game were DiMuccio, DiThomas, Mastern, McClymonds and R. McNickle.

In the final game the First Baptist "B" team downed the First Christians, 30 to 13. The stars of the game were Campbell, Wagner, Wallace, Davis and H. Smith.

Nineteen persons were injured in a New York subway, but this doesn't compare with the number who have been hurt in Chicago's underworld.

The Dayton Daily News.

Three floor games will be played at the Y. M. C. A. on Wednesday night. The first game starts at 8 o'clock.

In the first battle the St. Paul's Lutherans will meet the Second U. P. team. The second game finds the Finnish Lutherans and St. Mary's Reserves playing, and the third game is between the Sacred Hearts and Young Men's Industrial club of the Y. M. C. A. This is a fine program and the games should be well attended.

Schmeling Will Arrive Today In New York Harbor

Liner Carrying Heavyweight Champion Of World Delayed By Storms At Sea

WILL TRAIN FOR EXHIBITION TOUR

By LES CONKLIN International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—Late tonight or early tomorrow Max Schmeling will set foot on the soil of one state where he is not recognized as heavyweight champion.

The teuton, who sailed from Bremen last Wednesday with his trainer, Max Machon, on the North German Lloyd liner Europa, was to have arrived in New York early this afternoon, but storms delayed the liner's progress. Latest advices indicated the ship might lie in quarantine tonight and not dock until tomorrow morning.

The champion's plans for the immediate future were revealed today by his manager, Joe Jacobs.

"Max will stay at a New York hotel for a day or two," said Jacobs. "After that he will spend about ten days at a nearby training camp, probably Madam Bey's place at Summit, N. J. He is in fair shape now but will train daily at the camp to put himself in better condition for exhibition tour."

"Cho" stated that selection of the site of Max's title fight with W. L. (Young) Stribling in June was still up in the air.

Tommy Grogan To Sub For Berg In Battle On Friday

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—Jackie Berg injured an arm defending his title against Goldie Hess in Chicago Monday night and will not be able to meet Herman Perlick Friday at the Garden, it was announced today.

Tommy Grogan, of Omaha, who outpointed Harry Dublinsky in a ten-round bout at Detroit last night, will be Perlick's opponent.

SPYING ON SPORTS BY WILLIAM RITT

Central Press Sports Editor

If there is one sport suffering from under- (instead of over-) emphasis, it must be basketball. With the major college net leagues and the big-time pro circuit in the heat of their annual flag battles there is little news in the gazettes for the cage fans to digest save the Friday and Saturday sports.

Basketball is really the victim of the ballyhoo of a few better boosted sports. Major league holdout talk, the heavyweight boxing mess, endless charges and counter-charges over football's place in the collegiate picture, a rapidly growing interest in hockey matters have all but crowded cage news off the sports pages these days.

Basketball is a much faster sport than football and far more interesting to watch than a scuffle between two hippodroming pugilists, yet the average sport page reader prefers to peruse items about the other sports.

Speaking of basketball—there are two big bang-up battles in progress for major collegiate conference honors now.

In the Eastern league Columbia, 1929-1930 champion, and the favorite again this year, has been leading the pack with, however, Yale and Dartmouth just a game away from a tie with the Lion. Princeton, Cornell and Penn fill out the second division.

Though Columbia is still favored to win out, Yale has shown surprising strength and is expected to outlast Dartmouth as the team with which the Lions from old Broadway must compete for the final decision.

The greatest surprise in the league is the poor showing of Pennsylvania. A poor second last season after having dominated the league for years, Penn was expected to go great this year and be the biggest menace to Columbia's reign. However, the Quakers just can't get going.

Northwestern, the favorite, continues to ride in first place in the Western conference cage race. However, up to this writing the Wildcats have been forced to share the first row seat with Chicago, the great surprise of the season.

Not figured in pre-season dope to get anywhere, the Maroons by dumping Minnesota a few days ago served notice that if Northwestern is to win out it will be a battle to the finish.

Northwestern, at that, should have comparatively little trouble in at least tying for the crown. The Wildcats have twice defeated Michigan, which team opened the season with a surprise win over Purdue, last season's unbeaten champions.

Out on the Pacific coast unbeaten California and Washington quintets have maintained their leads in the two divisions of the Coast conference. Washington State, football champ, has gained a tie with Oregon State for runnerup to Washington in the northern division.

Lutherans Trim Christians 18-13

The St. Paul's Lutherans defeated the Christians in a fast game played at the Lincoln floor. The Lutherans held a lead throughout the game. The stars were Snyder, F. Figley and Fabian.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

It looks as though punches are being developed in this section of the tri-state and it comes to pass that fighters continue to distribute sporadically the boxing game will receive impetus as there is nothing that appeals to fans like a knock-out. A few nights ago Castle Bowl had three kayoes when Lefty Arnold stopped Elmer Badger, Walter West bowed to Johnny Banko and Joe Midway put Nick Adamo to sleep.

Last night Arnold hung up another knockout when he stopped George Teterich in the fifth round at Alliquippa. Several other bouts ended the same way. Nick Gruber stopped Mike Kelly in the fourth, Jack O'Brien put Silver Montini to sleep and Bus Mason handed a dream kiss to Jimmy Kelly. In amateur bouts at Greensburg four kayoes out of nine bouts were turned in.

Mickey Duris, protégé of Jimmy Dunn, stepped into his home town Johnston, and handed a lacing to Andy Andrucci in 10 rounds. It was Duris' first fight before his home folk since going to Dunn for instruction, and judging from the way he handled Andrucci he has made considerable improvement. Andy is the chap who milled with Phil Goldstein here last summer.

Phil Zwick, a veteran campaigner of Cleveland, attempted to stem the upward surge of Freddie Miller, the Cincinnati pride, and he was knocked out in the third round. Zwick tried to claim a foul but the claim was not allowed. Ross Fields came through with a knockout over Red Hardman and Eddie Ruckman stopped Al Shiek of Cleveland in the fifth round.

Henry Firpo, the rangy middleweight who gave many thrills here, wants to show the local fans that Hasken Hansen is not his master. In a telephone conversation last night Firpo remarked: "There always was a big crowd who wanted to see me knocked stiff as a herring. Well, Hansen is accredited with kayoing me. Book Hansen against me and I'll show you some real excitement."

Henry fought many fights here. Most of them were exciting and on one or two occasions he was hit with pebbles after he departed from the ring enroute to the dressing room. Some of the fans just couldn't see Firpo win and efforts were always made to get the best possible opponent for him. Johnny Burns, one of the best middleweights in the country was booked against him.

And the great Johnny failed to put Firpo away and the fans sighed. Later Firpo and Jimmy Dunn parted company and Firpo started on his own hook. He hit Chicago and Haaken Hansen hit Firpo. They counted Mr. Firpo out. Many fans would have given a "finest" to have seen him on the floor. Since that night Henry has grieved for a return bout.

Last night he telephoned the writer asking that Hansen be brought here. "Put me in the ring with him. I'll show you that I can not only beat him but knock him out. New Castle is one place where I always show my best. I don't know why, but it's the truth. It may be due to the desire of many people who want to see me whipped and I've always determined they shouldn't see me beat."

Another match which the fans are talking about is a proposed Joe Midway-Mickey Solomon battle. Mickey has been out of the ring for several months. Joe knocked out the same status until he knocked out Nick Adamo. If Mickey can get himself in shape and Midway cares to tackle Mickey another Solomon-Huske fight would be the result. Solomon is clever and Midway is a slugger.

Jim Jeffries bemoans the demands of boxers who exact exorbitant purses from promoters. He claims demands exceed their drawing power. Jack Johnson, who is trying to get into the limelight with sallies about a comeback, claims Max Schmeling is a fluke champion and Carnera is an overgrown clown. Recently Dempsey remarked that "what's wrong with the boxing game is Jack Sharkey."

Jeffries, Johnson and Dempsey are former heavyweight champions. Of the three, Dempsey is still active in the glare of the ring. He referees and in this manner continues to share in the spotlight and will until he settles for all time the question of whether or not he will return as a fighter. Johnson announces his positive retirement he will begin fading.

Wampum Merchants To Play Tonight

The Wampum Merchants basketball team having won 9 games and lost but 5 this year, will seek to add a few more victories this week. Tonight the Merchants meet the Beaver Falls Goofs. Wednesday night the Chippewa Grangers will be played. Both teams are on the Wampum floor.

Thursday night the Merchants will go to Beaver Falls to play the Duff's College five. The Wampum boys are quite anxious to play the Bessemer Boosters and the Ellwood City Merchants on their own courts. The home nights for the Wampum floor are all booked for the month of February.

For games with the Merchants call Walter T. Gaffney, Wampum, Pa.

KEEPING IT HOT

Stove League Gossip

Long George Kelley, wanted by Los Angeles, has been kicking about going there. Kelley, still on the roster of the Chicago Cubs, is not figured on for next season by Manager Rogers Hornsby and was slated for the movie city. George said he would rather play in the east.

Joe Sewell, recently released by Cleveland, was known as the lad with the camera eyes by American league pitchers. In 10 years of major league play, Joey struck out only 99 times.

Les Bell, Chicago Cubs' third sacker, has had to see a bone specialist about his throwing arm.

George Earnshaw now says that he carried a bronze medal of Benjamin Franklin around last summer and gives credit to it for a lot of his success on the mound.

Earl Shelly, Frisco first sacker, who will try to brighten the corner where the Boston Braves are, last season established a Pacific coast league record by driving out 224 singles.

Charley Gelbert of those St. Louis Cardinals has settled down in St. Louis and entered the oil business.

Earl Smith, veteran catcher, who thought a member of the Cards, failed to get in the last world series, which would have been his sixth, has been released.

Fanned Only 99 Times In 10 Years

Once Poorest Paid Cleveland Player He Became Highest Paid

CLEVELAND Jan. 27.—Joe Sewell, granted an unconditional release by the Cleveland Indians, had the keenest pair of eyes in baseball, it would appear from his record with Cleveland.

During his 10 years the third strike was called on him but 99 times and he fanned out 33 times during the last six years which gives him an average less than six strikeouts per season.

In 1930, he fanned three times in 169 games and surpassed that mark in two full seasons of play by striking out only four times in 1925 and 1929. Sewell was released because his legs gave way.

He rose from the poorest paid Indian to the point where he was the highest paid during his last six seasons.

During his last three years he earned $42,000.

Further Plans For Motor Club Meeting

Hope To Secure Good Speakers For Annual Meeting Early In February

Announcements have been mailed to members of the New Castle Motor Club for their annual meeting, which will be held in the Castleton ball room on Tuesday, February 10, at 7:30 p. m.

Assurances have been received from S. Edward Gable of Lancaster, Pa., president of the Pennsylvania Motor Federation that he will be present. An effort is being made to secure a representative of the Pennsylvania State Highway Department at Harrisburg, and a representative of the A. A. A. from Washington.

While no definite word has been received from officials of these latter organizations, President Bolinger of the local auto club expects to be able to announce the complete list of speakers within a few days. There will be a buffet lunch served, and the annual election of the Board of Governors will be held in connection with the meeting.

Caught With Considerable Liquor In Their Possession At Grove City

(Special To The News)
GROVE CITY, Pa., Jan. 27.—Carroll E. King, aged 25, and John Hogue, aged 24, of Pittsburgh, arrested here late last night by Officers Reed and Crookson, who claim to have found fourteen pints of liquor in the car and two pints on Hogue, are now in the county jail at Mercer in default of bail in the sum of $1,500 each on charges of violating the Snyder Act.

The charges against these young men were made before Squire O. E. Irwin of this place by Chief of Police Charles Ray. According to the authorities they have been on the lookout for these men since Christmas, due to the fact that they were suspected of making periodical visits here for the sale of liquor.

Captain Schmidt Says Canadian Boat Within Twelve Mile Zone

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—The Canadian rumrunner Josephine K., was well within the twelve mile limit when she was shelled and her Captain killed, Captain Carl Schmidt, commander of the coast guard cutter No. 145, today told the official board of inquiry.

Schmidt, who himself handled the gun which sent a solid shot through the rumrunner at a distance of only 150 feet, also stated that the Josephine K., was fleeing toward the open sea and that the cutter was behind her.

His testimony was in direct contradiction to the presumption that the rumrunner may have been headed toward the coast guard vessel in seeking to surrender, a presumption raised to explain the fact that the shell which killed Captain William P. Cluett landed squarely in front of her pilot house.

Regional Dinner Planned By Lions During March

Lions club delegation from the surrounding districts will convene here for another regional dinner meeting some time during March.

Thomas I. Elliott, secretary of the New Castle club and a regional director announced at today's noon-hour meeting of the club, in the Elks Home.

Lion Elliott said March 17 has been set as the tentative date, but may be changed to suit the schedule of District Governor Daniel Kramer of Reading. He will likely attend.

Next week's noon meeting of the club will be dispensed with because of an evening get-together the club will hold in the Elks Home Thursday, February 5. A special program is being arranged for the evening.

On Monday February 16 at 6:30 p. m., the Ladies of the Lions, club auxiliary will entertain their husbands at a tureen dinner and program in the Pennsylvania Power hall. The Tuesday meeting that week will also be dispensed with.

President Earle T. Ramsey today named Arthur Rees, chairman of the club's athletic committee. Theodore Marquis, T. L. Nixon and J. B. Waddington will serve with him.

Guest speakers today were Mrs. R. Frederick Roberts and Mrs. John McNeill who appeared in the interest of the coming of Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen.

NEW YORK STOCKS

Market Is Irregular In Early Trading Today

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—The market continued to move irregularly in a narrow price range in the early trading today. Most of the favorites started the day at slightly higher prices, the Utilities and the Specialties being favored. Oil, Electrical Manufacturing and Steel Stocks, with a few of the Rails and Motors, were under moderate selling pressure but dipped into lower price territory were comparatively small.

Traders were inclined to hold back on U. S. Steel awaiting the fourth quarterly earnings statement after the close of today's market. The stock sold in reduced volume around 142 1/2, down 1/4 from yesterday's close. Bethlehem held steadily at 51 1/2, down 3/4.

The pools in United Corporation, Columbia Gas, Electric Power and other favorite Utilities stood square behind their favorites and the same was true of the Specialties in which a short interest had developed. Vanadium was carried along 1 1/2 to 51 as the shorts squirmed to extricate themselves.

Allegheny Corporation reached a new high above 10 in the lead of the low-priced Rails. Railroad earnings reports for December were no worse than expected and in many sections of the country the January car-loadings showed an improvement. The best grade of dividend Rails were quiet but firm.

Further recoveries were made in the Mercantile, Foodstuffs, Airplane and other groups which have been under moderate pressure of late. Money was in good supply with call funds offered at 1 per cent in the outside market.

New York City Gang War Is On

Goodtime Charlie "Chink" Sherman (left) was taken to the Polyclinic Hospital, where Arnold Rothstein died, with twelve stabs and three bullets in his chest. Sherman is said to be a gambler of the plunger type, and was "put on the spot" outside the Club Abbey, New York City. Mavis King (center), pretty cabaret girl, accompanied Sherman to the hospital.

but was extremely reticent concerning the gunplay when questioned by police. Arthur "Dutch" Schultz (right), quick-triggered beer czar, is said to be lying near death, bullet-ridden and battered, in a hideaway Long Island sanitarium, where he was rushed with four of his wounded gunmen, following the pitched battle in the Club Abbey (above).

McFadden put in the sub-committee's record a letter he wrote members of the Senate banking committee concerning Meyer's administration of the federal joint stock land banks when he was a member of the Federal farm loan board: circumstances surrounding Meyer's appointment to the reserve board and an alleged "hook up" with the Morgan banking interests.

He also gave the committee a copy of a speech he made in the house December 20 last in which he said he had gone into the "matter of international connections of the federal reserve board, including the international settlements bank."

The committee is conducting hearings on Meyer's nomination after Senator Brookhart (R) of Iowa criticized his banking activities and connections on the floor of the Senate.

Well Dressed Man In 1931 Will Wear More Colors, Is Reported

Special Costume Is Very New And Is Known As "Directors Suit" For Business

"Host's Suit" Will Be Gay Colored Effect With Sash If Desired

By LEO V. DOLAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 27.—"What the well dressed man will wear" for 1931 includes:

More, decidedly more, color—especially for sport affairs.

A wider variety of attire from business dress to informal and formal social events designs.

A special costume, known as the "director's suit," recommended for the banker or business man.

The "host's suit," including a sash if desired, which allows the host to be distinguished from his guests.

The scarlet costume for hunt club programs, both formal and informal.

These were the salient points of the year's fashion decree rendered today by the National Association of Merchant Tailors of America as the style arbiters of the nation opened their four-day convention here.

Dress Coat Supreme.

The dress coat triumphantly, still supreme for formal evening wear, but with a new color of "midnight blue" introduced. In fact, there should be two suits in the wardrobe, the standard black garment included.

Although the double breasted tuxedo will be in greater demand for informal evening wear, two other selections are available, being the single breasted and a jacket with shawl collar.

The "host suit" is designed to take the place of the tuxedo for men entertaining informally at home. It will be offered in novelty colored cashmeres, blues, purples, browns, tans and maroons, with a rolling shawl collar. A sash of the same silk used in the facing may be worn.

Emphasis was placed on the correct motif in sports clothes. The point was stressed that attire correctly worn in the country is not suitable for city wear.

New creations in formal wear are introduced in riding clothes designs. For indoor rides and shows a black coat with white colored waistcoat and dark blue trousers will be correct.

For the hunt dinners and dances, however, a scarlet evening dress coat will be worn, requiring the white evening dress waistcoat and evening dress trousers.

Fine Welcome For Gandhi In Bombay

India's Wizen 'Holy Man' Given Vicerious Welcome On Arrival At Bombay

WAS IN PRISON NINE MONTHS

(International News Service) BOMBAY, Jan. 27.—Mahatma M. K. Gandhi, India's wizen "holy man" whose weight scarcely tops that of a child, received a vociferous welcome today when his train drew into Bombay station just as the day was breaking.

The passive crusader for complete Indian independence, granted unconditional release with his lieutenants yesterday by British authority after nearly nine months of confinement in Yerovda jail near Poona, was clad only in a loin cloth. A blanket flung around the shoulders sheltered his nutbrown body from the morning chill.

Din Of Cheering
The approach of the train bringing the nationalist leader back in their midst provided the signal for a din of cheering that has seldom been equaled in the annals of Bombay's history. Gandhi's emaciated features softened with a paternal smile as the enthusiastic roar of thousands of followers pounded upon his ears.

Seated in characteristic manner with crossed legs before his humming spinning wheel while the coach rolled into Victoria terminus, the Mahatma joked and laughed with those around him. His peace and freedom were quickly interrupted, however, for despite the strong guard of nationalist congressmen delegated to guard their leader, he was soon immersed in a rush of followers who permitted no one to bar their path.

His tiny figure finally was extricated from the swirl of humanity and covered with garlands. He was then paraded through the city in triumph and escorted to a bountiful breakfast table.

Trees are budding in Newfoundland and cold weather makes it necessary to close schools in Florida. Any day now we may expect to hear of an epidemic of sun-strokes in the Arctic circle.—The Hamilton Spectator.

"Billy The Kid" Feud Is Recalled

(International News Service) WHITEOAKS, N. M., Jan. 27.—Memories of "Billie the Kid" and the notorious Lincoln county war which took its toll of human lives in one of the bloodiest killing orgies in the history of the old west were recalled here recently with the death of Mrs. Susan McSweeney Barber, 91.

Mrs. Barber's first husband, A. A. McSweeney, was one of the central figures in the Murphy-McSweeney feud, which led to the outbreak of hostilities in the Pecos valley in the late '70s.

McSweeney was killed 50 years ago at Lincoln, N. M., when he walked out of a burning building, Bible in hand, to face the gun fire of his enemies in the hope of saving his defenders, included among whom was the buck-toothed gunman from New York's east side, who later made a name for himself as the notorious Billy the Kid.

Later killings by the Kid were attributed to revenge for the killing of his friend, McSweeney. The Kid himself was shot down and

AVOID FLU EPIDEMIC

Ten Herbs, the famous herbal medicine, cleanses and invigorates the entire system and therefore helps to ward off the flu.

"Ten Herbs put my whole system in good order," said Mr. Orville Jackson, 217 E. Madison Ave., New Castle. "For over a year I was troubled with gas and bloating after a meal. I had headaches and my sleep was restless. My liver was lazy and my bowels irregular. I had to arise often at night. Ten Herbs did quick, effective work in relieving the gas, pains and bloating. My nerves are better and I sleep soundly. My bowels are regulated and my liver and kidneys are in good order. I don't have to arise at night. You may add me to your long list of those who are endorsing Ten Herbs."

Three Are Held On Robbery Charge

WARREN, O., Jan. 27.—Pleading guilty to charges of highway robbery George Brown, Sam Overton and John Green all of Farrell, Pa., were bound to the grand jury under $5,000 bond each by Judge Charles P. Perry today.

The trio is said by police to have admitted holding up a Warren store and a Masury gasoline station last week. They were returned from Sharon where they were captured by Pennsylvania authorities.

Wounded In Hip By Stray Bullet

ROCHESTER, Pa., Jan. 27.—Chas. Lloyd, 26 Rochester, received a severe wound in his hip, when struck by a stray bullet from a rifle fired, it was said, by Jack Denison young son of John C. Denison, who had been firing at a tin can.

Flight Commander Lundborg Injured As Plane Crashes

Flight Commander Who Lead Successful Search For Noble Is Seriously Injured

(International News Service) STOCKHOLM, Jan. 27.—Flight commander Lundborg, who led the expedition into the arctic wastes which resulted in the rescue of commander Umberto Nobile and several members of the crew of the wrecked polar dirigible Italia, was seriously injured in an airplane crash at the Malmstall military aerodrome today.

Lundborg's plane crashed from a height of 30 feet.

Many Seek Jobs In Mercer County

Great Number Of Applicants For Deputy Game Warden And Mercantile Appraiser

MERCER, Pa., Jan. 27.—If there is anything of special virtue in numbers the state authorities that have the selection of a deputy game warden and mercantile appraiser for Mercer county will have an easy time of it.

For the deputy post it is said 50 have signified their intentions of taking the examination that prefaces the naming of the winner. For the post of appraiser 16 have posted their intentions with Harrisburg authorities as well as county officials.

O. A. Perschka, who has been serving in the capacity of special warden following the resignation of Game Warden Frank Fair, will be elevated to the post of warden when the change comes.

COURT TERM STARTS
Two continued cases are listed for hearing at the January session which opened Monday.

The liquor law violation against Helen Ruth Wildman of Mercer is set for Thursday as is the larceny charge against John Boycan of No. 6 Mine.

Fire Chief Lynn Confined To Bed

Fire Chief Charles H. Lynn was confined in bed at his home, 1013 West Washington street, today, following the visit of a physician. The chief became ill Monday evening and immediately took to his bed.

Mrs. Lynn said today the chief is troubled with lung congestion. He had a cold for several days, she said.

Assistant Fire Chief H. Clarence Stockman was on duty at central fire station this morning.

CHANGES ANNOUNCED

Following a five year period during which the state instructor in home economics has shared her time in Mercer and Lawrence counties, Mercer county is to be given a full time instructor.

Miss Dorothy Elter of State College has been selected for the post. She will make the change about February 1st.

The entire state is being re-districted at that time. Crawford, Erie and Mercer all get full time workers. Miss Elter is highly competent to carry on the program of instruction in cooking and sewing which she imparts to large classes of women in the 22 county grades.

OFFICES WELL KEPT

The records of Prothonotary Daisy T. Morse and Recorder William Jones are stated by auditor W. G. Barker to be in a high state of efficiency as well as being exact in their appropriation of county and state funds which was the purpose in the attorney going over them. The official has yet to audit Clerk of Courts Belle Emery's books which from previous years reports will be on a par with the other two officials.
